SCOUTS REACH NEW YORK ON THURSDAY EVENING FROM OVERSEAS TOUR

Lawrence County Delegation Returning From International Jamboree And European Tour—Home Saturday—Enthusiastic Over Meeting Prince Of Wales.

(Special I. N. S. Bulletin To The News)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Bronzed by the sun of England, Belgium and France, New Castle's delegation to the Boy Scouts' Jamboree at Binkenhed, England, arrived here Thursday night on the steamship California.

As the eighteen Lawrence county boys staggered down the gang plank with souvenirs from the countries visited they were swept into the arms of parents who had been longing for that minute more than a month, and Scout Executive Calahan, in charge of the scouts made no effort to smother a sigh of relief at having them all safe on native land once more.

With eighty other scouts from seven states they gathered at the far end of the pier to await customs inspection. The inspectors checked them through without glancing into their luggage and they set out in a sight-seeing bus furnished by New Castle friends, to see New York. Although the boys saw hundreds of Europe's prized historic wonders they unquestionably were most impressed by the Prince of Wales. On every side one heard, "Gee ma, I saw the Prince of Wales. He's a regular guy."

CHRISTMAS TREE FOR POLITICIANS IS SEEN BY ROGERS

(Special To The News)

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 30.—President Hoover certainly

opened up a Christmas tree for the politicians when he suggested that all government land be turned back to the state in which it was located. Just announce that there is something going to be divided up and you got the whole nation interested in national affairs.

Announce there is something to pay and you got one hundred and ten million anarchists on your hand, so Mr. Hoover is becoming a politician fast. I don't know how bad the federal government manages the land, but as bad as they do, it can only be 1-48th as bad as the states will do it.

P. S.—Claremore, Okla., is just waiting for a high tension line so they can go ahead with locating an airport.

Yours,

WILL.

This was the statement made to International News Service early today by officials of the Lakeside hospital here, where Lady Mary Heath, premier British aviatrix and one of the best known airwomen in the world, lies close to death as the result of an airplane crash which has brought the first note of tragedy into the National Air Races now under way here.

Lady Heath was rushed to the Lakeside institution from the Cleveland Emergency Clinic, where the operation, designed to stop the flow of brain fluid and thus prevent meningitis, was performed.

The famous British flier, who is holder of the world's long distance solo flight record for women, was operated on by Dr. Elliott G. Cutler, prominent brain specialist and the resident surgeon of Lakeside hospital. Dr. C. L. Harmon. Two other physicians also assisted.

Several pieces of bone pressing against the brain were removed in the course of the operation. Lady Heath was still unconscious at an

From Bottle She Was Playing With

Phyllis Christine Marshall, 15 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Marshall of Wampum, died in convulsions, Thursday evening at about 8:30 at the home of her parents. The baby had been playing with a bottle of Cascara tablets. The mother thought the cork was securely pushed in the bottle. However, the child managed to pull out the cork and eat several of the tablets, which brought on severe cramps, and the baby died in convulsions.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marshall and sisters Helen and Mary Jane, and brothers, John and Harold.

Funeral services will take place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock D. S. T. from the Marshall home, with Rev. Bingham of the Wampum Presbyterian church officiating. Interment will be made in the Oak Park cemetery of New Castle.

Officers At Work On Hillsville Case

Bombing Clues Being Run Down
By Lawrence County
Officials

Twenty-four hours of intensive work on the bombing outrage in Hillsville have resulted in no arrests but it is understood that the county officers have unearthed several valuable clues.

Constable William J. Edwards whose home was bombed has already started the work of repairing his home, a new porch being provided for and plaster for the rooms down stairs. Practically every pane of glass in the house was broken.

District Attorney J. Elder Bryan holds to the theory that it was a personal grudge upon the part of some disgruntled individual who was arrested that prompted the bombing.

County Detective Fleming has been working on the case and has the assistance of the state police in it.

Councilman Walter V. Tyler this morning recommended to city council that owing to the fact that H. J. Phillips had completed one-half of the work of repairing and renovating the police department that he be paid $200 about one-half the contract price. Council concurred in his recommendation.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 30.—Nom-

ceed Charles E. Gebert, of Tamaqua, were to come before Pennsylvania's delegates to the state convention of the American Legion at the second session of the eleventh annual con-

Two leading candidates for state commander are already announced officially to the delegates in the persons of Attorney Frank L. Pinola, of Pittston, and Ray E. Taylor, of Harrisburg. Although Taylor was conceded a slight edge in pre-election predictions yesterday, the Pinola boom gained considerably during the night and close observers believe the election will be close with the outcome conjectural.

Vice and district commanders, nominated yesterday, are to be elected today as will a state chaplain to succeed the Rev. Charles F. Gorman, of Philadelphia. Indications are that the new chaplain will be Rev. Harold P. Mecher, of Germantown.

Butler As Speaker
General Smedley Butler, of the U. S. Marines, will address the convention at today's session and, following the famous warrior's address, delegates and alternates to the national convention at Louisville will be elected.

The field of possible delegates and alternates to the national meeting is exceedingly large. Reports of convention committees will occupy much time at today's session. Harrisburg continues to lead in the race for the 1930 convention of legionnaires, but faces stiff opposition from other cities. A decision may be reached today on the next meeting place.

Radio Operator Says Ship "Just Seemed To Crumple Up"

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Ralph Hillsman, second radio operator aboard the San Juan today, in radio advice, gave a vivid account of the sinking of his ship when it collided with the tanker S. C. T. Dodd.

"I was awakened by the shock of the crash," he said, "I rushed to the deck and the ship was already going down. It was going so fast that I threw myself overboard as far away from the side of the vessel as I could.

"The ship just seemed to crumple up."

The first radio operator before leaving his ship was able to send out a hurried S. O. S. call. It is not known however whether he has been saved.

By 11 o'clock tonight the 1929 New Castle Fair will be history, but it will be the kind of history that can be written to the credit of the officials of the fair. With three days of the fair past, and the final one here, President J. W. Hartwell and his associates have the pleasure of looking back at a fair that was probably the best one ever held by the local association, and today promises to be a fitting climax to a really interesting week.

Thursday was the big day of the fair. Just what the total for the afternoon and evening crowd was is hard to say, but it probably ran about 11,000 people. While the clouds hid the sun most of the afternoon, there was but a brief spell of rain, early in the day, and the result was a splendid crowd, a fast track and some of the best races ever seen in the county.

Cavalcade Thursday Night

Preceding the night show Thursday night a cavalcade was held around the race track, with Marshal Thomas Cooper at the head of the line. Cattle and horses and ponies paraded around, some of them proudly exhibiting the blue ribbons that indicated first place in their classes, and the

FEAR TOLL OF DEATHS IN STEAMER SINKING MAY BE THREE SCORE

Passenger Liner And Oil Tanker Collide Near San Francisco Early Today—Many Are Missing And Feared Lost
In Crash—Rescue Boats On Scene Hunting Survivors —Worst Maritime Disaster In Coast History.

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The death toll in the sinking of the passenger steamer San Juan early today off Pigeon Point may be three score or more.

A dense fog today shrouded in uncertainty the fate of 74 passengers and members of the ill-fated San Francisco to Los Angeles steamer which sank 12 miles off the coast of Central California three minutes after being in collision with the tanker S. C. T. Dodd.

Only 36 Accounted For

Seven hours after the collision only 36 of the 110 persons known to have been on the San Juan had been definitely accounted for.

Of this number 27, many badly injured, were enroute to San Francisco on the disabled tanker Dodd and seven were aboard the steamer Munami which was first to answer the distress call sent out by the Dodd immediately after the collision.

Many of the victims of the worst maritime disaster in recent years on the Pacific were women and children. The San Juan carried 65 passengers and a crew of 45.

Radio advice failed to indicate how many of those known to be saved were passengers and how many were members of the crew.

In addition to the Munami, the motor ship Frank Lynch was patrolling the vicinity of the wreck and two coast guard vessels were steaming full speed from San Francisco to join in the search for survivors and bodies.

Crash In Fog

The crash occurred in a dense fog which early today had not lifted. This impeded the rescue effort. By dawn hundreds of watchers lined the shore line near Davenport anxious to be of assistance should the tide bring ashore any wreck victims.

Slight hope was held that survivors might be found floating on bits of wreckage.

Meagre wireless details of the crash said the San Juan went down so quickly that it was feared many were trapped in their cabins.

The sinking vessel formed a whirlpool which probably sucked down

Highest praise is due the crew and every department of the Munami for the work in manning the boats and saving the survivors of the San Juan.

Especially has Captain Hlig of the Munami handled the entire situation in a thoroughly seamanlike manner. The San Juan went down in three minutes.

Sinclair Thanks His Employees For Their Good Work

Harry F. Sinclair, Thanks Entire Consolidated Oil Company For Fine Work

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation today sent a personal letter to all the members of his far-flung organization, thanking every one of them "from our presidents and vice presidents to the last man employed" for the "fine work" they are doing.

Sinclair, who is serving a term in prison for defying a United States Senate committee, has seen his executive make good their promise that they would "work harder than ever" while he is in jail, and he is deeply appreciative. A few days before he began serving his sentence he was buoyed up by the action of the stockholders in giving him a vote of confidence and by the assurance of his executive employees that they would "carry on."

Obviously they did, for net earnings of the Sinclair company for the first half of the current year, as reported recently, showed a distinct gain compared with the same period last year. For the six months ended June 30, the net earnings, after interest and all other charges, amounted to $16,440,250, compared with $9,452,955 for the first half of 1928.

ed by any means yesterday. Of course it wasn't the last day but it afforded an opportunity to have it over with a minimum of delay.

Registering is a duty, an obligation which rests upon every citizen so do it the next time if you passed it up Thursday.

And speaking of registering, a number of residents found that new registering and polling places have been established for them. The recent change in precincts went into effect yesterday.

What is said will be one of the most interesting outings for some time is the reunion of residents of South New Castle boro, planned for tomorrow.

Observations "look in" overcoats, topcoats, blankets won in chance games and other heavy garments at the New Castle fair grounds last night. The atmosphere was quite chilly and a topcoat would have been welcomed by anyone.

New Castle Boy Scouts from the great Birkenhead pageant, held this past month, arrived in New York last night, a news message states. From New York the boys will go to Washington, take in everything of interest and come back home Saturday morning. The kids who made the trip will have more than a score of stories to tell their brother scouts when they return.

The Los Angeles did not return from Cleveland to Lakehurst via New Castle yesterday, going further south and striking Pittsburgh. It arrived over Pittsburgh about five o'clock.

Pa New is inclined to believe that the detour near Cascade Park could be improved some, especially for after-night traffic. It is about as dark and difficult a detour as can be found anywhere.

"Two would be rather chilly living in tents these nights, as some of the fair concessionaires do, Pa New would opine.

Monday is the last summer holiday of the year. It will be fittingly observed in this city, Cascade Park being the magnet for the day.

With the announcement that the Perry highway as now planned will not go through Meadville, it is evident that the state department is building a highway from Pittsburgh to the lakes that will not go through any city of any size enroute. It will make a great boulevard of 150 miles through this section of the state.

Apparently the Pennsylvania company is planning inauguration of a bus route between New Castle and Stoneboro. Application has been filed with the Public Service commission for permission to operate such a line.

There should be no letup on the part of officials until the bombing of the home of Constable W. J. Edwards at Hillsville is solved and the perpetrators pay the penalty. There shall be no toleration of any new outbreak.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Frank administration which official Washington lavished upon the history-making voyage of the Graf Zeppelin was succeeded today by a sober study of the vast possibilities revealed in the world cruise, with indications that Dr. Eckener's triumph may have great influence in shaping congressional action on aviation legislation.

While the highest technicians of army and navy were considering the value of giant airships in attacking and defending outlying possessions and the coasts, other officials were pondering over their value in extending passenger and mail air lines beyond the seas.

Two direct results of the Graf's flight appeared probable today, a canvass disclosed. They are:

1.—Passage of a bill authorizing the post office department to contract for regular overseas mail service by airship, which Rep. Kelly (R) of Pennsylvania, in charge of post office legislation, announced he will sponsor. Contract air mail service now is limited to airplanes.

2.—Study by naval affairs committee of defense of Hawaii, Panama Canal and seacoast, as to whether the present airplane defense should be supplemented by airships. Several members of congress, including Rep. James (R) of Michigan, chairman of the house military affairs committee, are studying the Hawaiian and Panama defense questions this summer.

The statement of Rear-Admiral Moffat, chief of naval aviation, that the United States considered leadership in lighter-than-air developments by "dilly-dallying" is expected to bring him a summons to canvass the aviation situation before both senate and house naval affairs committees.

Although the length of the Graf Zeppelin's voyage has excited wide comment, officials here regarded her ability to combat bad storms and outmaneuver other ships as the outstanding lesson of the trip.

The aerial crossing of the Pacific, it is pointed out, has ended the "splendid isolation" which has long been regarded as the surest protection for the nation's naval bases in the Philippines and Hawaii. The voyage, combined with the feat of the Los Angeles in picking up and discharging an airplane, have made a deep impression upon both members of congress and military men who have long regarded the Panama Canal as the highly vulnerable spot in America's protective armor.

Recent maneuvers at the Panama Canal, now being studied secretly by army and navy officers, have disclosed the need for a speedy knife defense to prevent the canal being put out of commission, which would halt union of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

Councilman Tyler Seeks Information

Councilman Walter V. Tyler on Friday morning at the session of council inquired as to who was to furnish the telephone gas and electricity needed at the municipal golf course. He said that the matter had been raised with him by Walter Hart, the manager.

Members of council expressed the opinion that these things were really up to the manager, because of the fact that it was for the benefit of things in which he must profit.

Councilman Burns stated that if the city furnished gas for heating, water at the shower baths, the electric lights, towels, etc., that there would be no economy practiced, while if it was up to the manager and he could make a charge that economy would be practiced. He and the other members thought that a public pay telephone would answer the purpose of telephoning needs at the course.

No action was taken authorizing Councilman Tyler to install the things mentioned, it being considered by council that this was a matter for adjustment by the manager.

By Arthur De V. Carpenter
The designs for the 200-inch telescope to be constructed for the California Institute of Technology, with the co-operation of the Mount Wilson observatory, are being vigorously pushed. The plans call for a powerful fork in which the telescope tube will rest, rotating on roller and ball bearings. The tube will be about fifty feet long. Experiments are being made with quartz for construction of the enormous mirror. Other kinds of glass are also being experimented with. The total weight of the constructed telescope will be around 200 tons. A test of atmospheric conditions at various mountain stations in California and Arizona will be carried on for two years before the site is selected.

The statement of Rear-Admiral Moffat, chief of naval aviation, that the United States considered leadership in lighter-than-air developments by "dilly-dallying" is expected to bring him a summons to canvass the aviation situation before both senate and house naval affairs committees.

Although the length of the Graf Zeppelin's voyage has excited wide comment, officials here regarded her ability to combat bad storms and outmaneuver other ships as the outstanding lesson of the trip.

The aerial crossing of the Pacific, it is pointed out, has ended the "splendid isolation" which has long been regarded as the surest protection for the nation's naval bases in the Philippines and Hawaii. The voyage, combined with the feat of the Los Angeles in picking up and discharging an airplane, have made a deep impression upon both members of congress and military men who have long regarded the Panama Canal as the highly vulnerable spot in America's protective armor.

Recent maneuvers at the Panama Canal, now being studied secretly by army and navy officers, have disclosed the need for a speedy knife defense to prevent the canal being put out of commission, which would halt union of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

Murder-Suicide Case Puzzling To Authorities

Believe Former Pittsburgh Policeman Killed Woman Companion Then Himself

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Police today were continuing their search for a motive for the murder and suicide of Miss Margaret Neimetz 28, a telephone operator, and Hays Ray Fry, 29, former city policeman, whose bodies were found in a parked automobile on a secluded road on Wednesday night. Both had been shot through the head.

Examination of the revolver found under Fry's body showed, police said, that it was an obviously cheap weapon and indicated that the woman may have killed Fry and then turned the gun on herself.

It was pointed out that since Fry as a former policeman knew that a cheap gun was dangerous, he would have probably used a better make weapon had he done the shooting. Police, however, admitted that it has not been determined which died first.

Detectives investigating the case agreed that the deaths were not the result of a suicide pact. The fact that Fry was dressed in working clothes and the presence of a small amount of liquor in the car, tended they said, to show that there had been no prearranged agreement to die together.

FEAR DEATH TOLL IN STEAMER SINKING
MAY BE THREE SCORE

many who were thrown or managed to make their way clear of the doomed vessel.
Radio reports said those picked up were injured and in an exhausted state. They were unable to give much detail of the disaster, other than there was a rending crash as the vessels collided, leaving a yawning hole in the wooden hull of the San Juan. It began to go down immediately and three minutes afterwards had disappeared.
Almost Cut In Half
It was believed that the San Juan must have been rammed amidship and cut almost in two to have gone down
so quickly.
Boats were launched from the tanker Dodd with amazing quickness.
Groping about in the fog guided by the cries of the survivors they picked up 27. Summoned to the scene within a short time by the radio calls of the Dodd, vessels continued their search as the Dodd limped to San Francisco with the survivors she had picked up.
Ambulances, nurses and physicians were assembled at the pier here to give immediate attention to the injured and exhausted wreck victims.
Hospitals were in readiness for their reception.
Anxious relatives and friends of passengers and crew of the San Juan besieged the offices of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Navigation company operating the steamer. There was little they could be told. The passenger list of those aboard the steamer was incomplete. Many of the passengers had purchased tickets at the last minute and their names were aboard the vessel. Steamship officials were making every effort to check their available list but it lacked addresses of passengers in many cases.
Captain Goes Down
Capt. A. F. Asplund, last seen going down with his ship, was relieving the regular skipper of the San Juan, who is on his vacation. His staff included First Officer Tulley,
Second Officer Olson, Chief Engineer
James Norton and Purser John Cleveland.
Built in 1882 in Chester, Pa., for the old Pacific Mail company, the San Juan was a pioneer in coast waters. She plied regularly on the Central American run until the Pacific
Mail passed out of business in 1925.
At that time she was taken over by the Panama Mail company, and later was sold to her present owners.
She was 283 feet in length, of 1-308 registered tons, with a capacity of 80 passengers.
The San Juan was heavily patronized by passengers who sought a leisurely trip between San Francisco and
Los Angeles, for she stopped at Santa Barbara on her regular route.
The tanker Dodd, built in 1920 by the Moore Ship-Building company of Oakland, is a modern steam oil tanker, equipped with the latest engines and oil handling machinery. She is 425 feet long, with a beam of 57 feet and a molded depth of 33 feet.
En Route to Los Angeles San Francisco, Aug. 30.—One of the worst marine disasters in the history of this section of the Pacific coast was believed to have been enacted with the collision of the passenger steamer San Juan and the tanker S.
C. T. Dodd, off Half Moon Bay early today.
It is believed that between 25 and 40 persons lost their lives when the two vessels collided in a soupy fog.
The San Juan was en route to Los Angeles with passengers and freight.
Some of the survivors picked up by the Dodd and the McCormick steamer Munami were badly injured, radio advises said.
The motorship Frank Lynch also picked up the S.O.S. sent out by the San Juan and steamed to the scene of the disaster to aid in the rescue work.
The impact of the two vessels was said to have been terrific, with many persons being thrown into the sea by the force of the collision.
Five minutes after the vessels had collided the San Juan was disappearing from sight and nothing but a few bits of wreckage remained floating on the water.
Boats were quickly launched from the Dodd and the work of fishing out survivors began at once. The Munami arrived at the scene shortly after the wreck and also launched lifeboats.
It was impossible to get the names of the injured survivors, as officers of both rescue ships were too busy directing rescue work.
At 3:30 this morning the S. C. L.
Dodd radioed it was clearing for San Francisco with injured survivors and asked that doctors be in readiness.
The San Juan was commanded by Captain A. F. Asplund. Other officers included Chief Officer Tulley, Second Officer A. Olson, Chief Engineer James Norton and Purser John Cleveland.
Lighthouse keepers on both sides of Pigeon Point were advised to be alert for the washing up of possible victims, but they stated that the heavy fog would make an immediate search of the coastline ineffective.
The coast between Half Moon Bay and Santa Cruz, in the center of which the collision occurred, is rocky and is combed continuously by heavy seas.
South of Pigeon Point, below Point Bueno Ano, however, is a long sweep of beach on a protected cove and survivors might be swept in there if they managed to cling to pieces of wreckage.
YOUNGEST GENERATION
Anna Betty was telling her mother all about last night's party. "And Peter Gadget tried to kiss me," she said.
"How dare he!" exclaimed mother.
"He didn't—I dared him," replied Anna Betty.—The Pathfinder.

Almost Cut In Half

It was believed that the San Juan must have been rammed amidship and cut almost in two to have gone down
so quickly.

Boats were launched from the tank-
er Dodd with amazing quickness.

Groping about in the fog guided by
the cries of the survivors they picked up 27. Summoned to the scene within a short time by the radio calls of the Dodd, vessels continued their search as the Dodd limped to San Francisco with the survivors she had picked up.

Ambulances, nurses and physicians were assembled at the pier here to give immediate attention to the injured and exhausted wreck victims.

reception.

Anxious relatives and friends of passengers and crew of the San Juan besieged the offices of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Navigation company operating the steamer. There was little they could be told. The passenger list of those aboard the steamer was incomplete. Many of the passengers had purchased tickets at the last minute and their names were aboard the vessel. Steamship officials were making every effort to check their available list but it lacked addresses of passengers in many cases.

Captain Goes Down
Capt. A. F. Asplund, last seen going down with his ship, was relieving the regular skipper of the San Juan, who is on his vacation. His staff included First Officer Tulley,
Second Officer Olson, Chief Engineer
James Norton and Purser John Cleveland.

Built in 1882 in Chester, Pa., for
the old Pacific Mail company, the San Juan was a pioneer in coast waters. She plied regularly on the Central American run until the Pacific
Mail passed out of business in 1925.

At that time she was taken over by the Panama Mail company, and later
was sold to her present owners.

She was 283 feet in length, of 1-
308 registered tons, with a capacity of 80 passengers.

The San Juan was heavily patronized by passengers who sought a leisurely trip between San Francisco and
Los Angeles, for she stopped at Santa
Barbara on her regular route.

WHAT COLORS? ASK THE BEES, THEY KNOW!

Noticing the queen's anxiety, Peter again stepped forward to explain.

"You needn't be afraid, Your Majesty. I know what the smoke is from. The bee-man made it to drive all the bees inside with their queen at once, so that all may know their way about in their new quarters."

"Oh, I see," said the queen, looking much relieved. "You are a great help to us, boy. Workers, I find no further reason for delay in setting up housekeeping."

Peter fancied he saw a smile on the queen's face as she turned to the several sneezing bees.

"And what view did you get for your pains?" asked she.

A PASSING BEE TOLD US IT IS KNOWN ALTOGETHER AS BEE VILLAGE.

The same spokesman answered again.

"Your Majesty must know that we saw a number of bee homes exactly like ours. They are built in a row and really look quite aristocratic. Bee Village, as called, a passing flier told us. Moreover, just beyond the village lies the most beautiful garden. So fair and full of flowers it is, we could scarce refrain from hastening to it."

"Blue flowers—do they grow there?" asked the queen. The spokesman nodded.

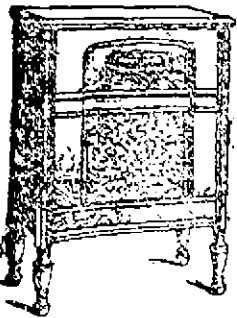

"Yes, Your Majesty, blue flowers."

Farrell Youth Sends Kite Up Three Miles

FARRELL, Aug. 30.—The endurance and altitude record craze has hit Farrell but instead of airplanes, kites are being used.

Lee Fung, Chinese youth yesterday established what is believed to have been an altitude record. His Chinese dragon kite yesterday reached an altitude of approximately three miles above the city. He used one pound of cobbler's thread and two pounds of special cord which measured over 20,000 feet. The kite was still up when darkness fell and Fung tied it to a tree hoping to establish an end-of-the-world record but in the morning it was found near the Saxon Street Hoop plant over a mile away.

Pall Of Gloom Over National Air Races

Serious Accident To Lady Mary Heath, Casts Spell Over Racing Events

Colonel Lindbergh Thrills Air Fans With Daring Display Of Trick Flying

By HOMER H. METZ, International News Service Aviation Editor

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—A pall of gloom hung over the National Air Races of 1929 today as a result of the tragic accident that befell Lady Mary Heath, one of the world's best known aviatrixes. Lady Heath suffered a fractured skull and other critical injuries yesterday when her monoplane, in which she was practicing dead stick landings, crashed at the Great Lakes Airport.

This is the first serious accident of an air meet that has been singularly free of such mishaps and it was bound to have a decided effect upon contestants and spectators alike.

In the grandstand at the races today, and in all hotel lobbies where aviation men congregated, Lady Heath's misfortune was the one topic of conversation.

Enthusiasm Lowered

There was a decided absence of enthusiasm at the Municipal Airport today as compared to the previous afternoon when the 1929 races reached their high spot.

There was nevertheless a large crowd on hand and the events on the day's program were not only thrilling, but numerous as well.

Two division dashes of the Toronto-to-Cleveland race, called the Canadian Derby, came to a close.

The Commercial division was won by H. Saint Martin, who covered the distance between the two cities in two hours, 10 minutes and 24 seconds. The winners of the second and third place and their times were as follows: second, W. J. E. Johnstone, 2 hours, 12 minutes and 14 seconds; third, James G. Craig, 2 hours, 18 minutes and 48 seconds.

The club division went to Kenneth E. White, whose time was three hours, 2 minutes and 59 seconds, and the third man, C. N. Erwin, in three hours, 14 minutes and 26 seconds.

Lindbergh Features

Special features of the day included an exhibition of stunt flying by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his two "high seas" of the United States Navy.

Lindbergh has been in an exceptionally fine humor for he outdid himself in the air. He performed several loops and Immelman turns that had the crowds gasping for breath. His two capable assistants, Lieutenants Kivette and O'Brien, were equal to any formation into which he led them. The three of them put on an aerial circus that will long be remembered.

Other events on the day's program and their results are as follows:

Fifty-mile race for planes with 275 cubic inches displacement or less, won by E. B. Heath in a Heath Baby Bullet, second H. A. Spear, Marshall, Mo. Barling Lowing monoplane; third, Louis Love, Richmond, Ind., Davis monoplane.

Fifty-mile women's race for planes with motors up to 800 cubic inches piston displacement, won by Gladys O'Donnell, Long Beach, Cal., in a Taper Wing Waco, averaged 137.00 miles an hour; elapsed time 26:09:08; second Louise Thadon, Pittsburgh, in Travelaire, averaged 131.43 miles an hour; third, Blanche Noyes, Cleveland, in Travelaire Special, averaged 127.77 miles an hour.

Fifty mile men's race for planes with 720 cubic inches piston displacement, won by Brett Williams, Greenville, S. C. in Eagle Rock Bullet, averaged 134.50 miles an hour, elapsed time 22:15:5; second Vern L. Roberts, Moline, Ill., in Monosport, average 128.84 miles an hour.

A straight line isn't always the shortest distance between two points. The shortest distance between job and jail is crooked.

Fayette County Probes Another Murder Mystery

Believe Missing Man Was Shot Through Head While Lying On Ground

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 30.—Officials are divided as to the cause of the death of Hilary Wilburn, whose body was found near Ohio Pyle. Wilburn had been missing since December 9, last. Deputy Coroner George P. Tiltow, who investigated the case in the absence of Coroner S. A. Baltz, said today: "This is another mysterious and brutal murder. From the examination made of the body I am of the opinion that Wilburn was felled by a vicious blow on the right jaw, which shattered, and then, as he lay on the ground, he was shot in the back of the head. The bullet came out above the right eye."

Another deputy coroner, D. Guy Johnston, says he found a bullet in the skull and it seemed more like a point of exit than entry. He said there are "suspicious" circumstances surrounding the discovery of the body. The absence of a weapon and of Wilburn's shoes also excited suspicion.

No definite decision is expected until a post-mortem is held by Coroner S. A. Baltz, who is expected back in the city tomorrow or Sunday.

First Plane Lesson Proves Disastrous

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—G. M. Smith, Lakewood, took the first lesson as a student pilot in a runaway plane. The throttle was left open when Smith's instructor cranked the engine. The plane roared down the field and into the air with a very much frightened student aboard. "I pressed right rudder to avoid a tree," Smith said, "and crashed into a tree. I scrambled out as fast as I could."

Blast Destroys Karns City Plant

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 30.—Fire following an explosion of undetermined origin in the steam still of the Karns City plant of the Starlight Refining Company today caused damage estimated at between $60,000 and $70,000, covered by insurance.

The filter house, built within the past two years, was destroyed in spite of efforts of firemen called from surrounding refineries and Butler city. William J. Anderson, general manager of the plant, stated that the explosion may have been the result of the low water supply and atmospheric conditions which permitted gasoline to escape back into the steam filter.

ELECTRIC CURRENT BURNS OFF BOY'S HAIR

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 30.—While sitting in an Altoona & Logan Valleyrolley car next to the heating stove (this afternoon) Clyde Ling, Jr., aged 8, was shocked and set on fire by an electric current that came down by way of the stove pipe. All his hair was burned off and his ears and neck slightly burned. A wire had fallen on the roof of the car and came in contact with the stovepipe stack through the roof.

Attorney For Prima Donna Seeking $350,000 Damages Is Mute

Miss Jane McAllister

By FRANK J. CIPRIANI
Central Press Staff Writer
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—If demure Jane McAllister, prima donna of the Club Algers, is seeking advance publicity as one of the emoluments of her damage suits for $350,000 against Harry E. Stebbins, wealthy Chicago clubman and manufacturer, she's "outa luck" so far as her attorney, Daniel A. Wolf, is concerned.

For, says the sage advocate, "We are not trying our case in the papers."

Silence Is General
Now of course that's not the kindest way to treat a client who is pretty, who is a singer, and who is suing a man now being sued by his wife. But Wolf won't talk, and all she'll do is sing—and it takes a little wad of Uncle Sam's new coin to hear her warblings at the Club Algers.

The lawyer's refusal to enlighten a greedy public as to the motives, reasons and causes for the litigation which has all the suggestion of a breach of some sort, is a new slant in this locality where "scandal suits" are aired in the papers the moment they are registered in court. Perhaps, however, the action is not what many suspect it to be. Whereupon Wolf will have his wish of "no publicity." If so it will be discreetly left alone.

No Reasons Given
Mr. Stebbins was mute on the possible reasons for the suit and his friends were likewise silent. The silence was quite pronounced despite the fact that $350,000 is considered quite a big noise in any circle.

Anyhow, housewives and workmen-at-leisure were quite hopeful that they would again be regaled with tales of a broken heart such as those told recently in the breach of promise trial involving Franklin Harding and Anne Livingston. Incidentally, Anne's bleeding heart was healed with the promise of $25,000 balsam.

happens, however, the action is not what many suspect it to be. Whereupon Wolf will have his wish of "no publicity." If so it will be discreetly left alone.

MRS. BRENNER GIVEN ESTATE

Wife Of Treasurer Gets Most Of Property; May Reach $200,000

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 30.—The will of Judson Brenner, county treasurer, who died last Friday, filed for probate Tuesday afternoon bequeaths to his wife, Margaret G. Brenner, the residue of the estate which, is believed, will amount to $200,000.

In addition, Mrs. Brenner is given the Brenner home in Poland, all furniture, and all personal effects which includes his coin collection and his collection of Lincoln's curios.

He gives to his sister, Mrs. Grace Brenner Austin, the income from 500 of the 2,500 shares of stock in the Belmont Park Cemetery Association held by the Dollar Savings and Trust Co. during her lifetime, and upon her death that goes to Mrs. Brenner.

Under a prior agreement, the income from 2,500 shares of Belmont Park Cemetery Association goes to S. Grace Brenner, his first wife, during her lifetime. At her death it goes to four children, Fredericka Torrey, Ralph A. Brenner, C. H. Brenner, and Beal Brenner.

The residue of the estate goes to his widow, Mrs. Brenner and H. F. Wirt, have been named executors of the will. The will was signed Jan. 6, 1925.

Radio Serves To Keep 'Em On Farm

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—With farm families owning more than 20 per cent of all the receiving sets in use in America, radio is seen as the most important modern factor in stemming mass desertion of the nation's farms by the younger generation, it is disclosed in a survey made public here by the Bremer-Tully Institute of Radio Research.

It was found that farmers constitute the largest single group of radio families, with 20.10 per cent owning receiving sets.

JUST HIS LUCK
In the course of one of his lecture trips, Mark Twain arrived at a small English town. Before dinner he went to a barber shop to get shaved.

"You are a stranger?" asked the barber.

"Yes," Mark Twain replied. "This is the first time I've been here."

"You chose a good time to come," the barber continued. "Mark Twain is going to read and lecture tonight. You'll go, I suppose?"

"Oh, I guess so."

"Have you bought your ticket?"

"Not yet."

"But everything is sold out. You'll have to stand."

"How very annoying!" Mark Twain said with a sigh. "I never saw such luck! I always have to stand when that fellow lectures."

Poison Weeds Are More Dangerous In Hot, Dry Seasons

HARRISBURG, Aug. 30.—Poisonous plants in pasture are most likely to cause trouble during a hot dry season, according to Dr. E. M. Gress, botanist of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. Such weather injures the pasture with the result that cattle eat plants which they do not ordinarily touch.

Among the troublesome plants, according to the botanist, are the following: White snake-root, water hemlock, poison henlock, wild cherry, black locust, mountain laurel, sheep laurel, bracken fern, flowering spurge and black nightshade.

Some of these plants are quite poisonous and may cause sickness and death when eaten even in small quantities. Others are less poisonous and must be eaten in large quantities before any trouble will be noticed.

One of the most dangerous plants in late summer is the white snail, or cattle but when pastures are dry the animals eat the tops of the plants often with fatal results.

Farmers who have lost animals during the summer or fall seasons should examine their pastures for plants which are likely to cause poisoning. Any suspicious plants may be sent to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture for identification and for information on poisonous qualities.

Flounder Fishermen Get Bags Of Booze

(International News Service)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 30.—A catch of "flounders," neatly sacked and labeled with names now uttered only sotto voce, brought two youthful fishermen a short vacation in jail and gave federal authorities here a legal headache.

A coast guard cutter happened on Gilbert Manchester and Clement Rose just after their flounder trawls had yielded several sacks of liquor. The boys were promptly taken into custody and handed over to Federal authorities, charged with importation.

The boys were informed that the "importation" on their part had been declared accidental in the eyes of the law and were released.

Plan Residence Skyscrapers In Downtown N. Y.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The lower West Side of Manhattan will be completely transformed into a modern skyscraper residential zone if the predictions of Revlin D. Benson, secretary of the Lower Manhattan Industrial association, are realized.

An industrial migration from this district to the area above Canal street as a direct result of the construction of the West Side Elevated highway and the $140,000,000 New York Central Railroad development will open the way for the proposed residential center. The association is sponsoring the two projects.

The transformation, which is described as a gigantic reconstruction and relocation plan, will change a major portion of the city and actually create an industrial city within the city.

The future homebodies of the residential skyscrapers will look from their windows on the greatest harbor in the world, Staten Island, Governor's Island, the Statue of Liberty, the New Jersey shore will make the panorama. Where now office windows face the waters plied by ships from all parts of the world, balconies will afford the residents healthful, peaceful recreation.

A growing appreciation of lower Manhattan as a place to live rather than a place to work together with the advancement of the reconstruction plans are cited as reasons for accepting the vision of skyscraper residences as a sure thing for the future.

Child, 13 Months, Victim Of Drugs

(International News Service)
WACO, Aug. 30.—Wasted away because of the excessive use of drugs, a 13-month-old baby girl is under the care of physicians here who are aiding her in a battle to win free of the "dope habit" and regain normalcy.

The physicians say the fight is almost without hope, and that the baby will never again be normal. But they are battling, nevertheless.

The "dope habit" was contracted by the baby when its parents repeatedly gave it paragon so that it would sleep peacefully at night. The physicians and nurses say the dosing was an almost nightly occurrence, and that the drug was administered in milk.

Physicians say that the constant "doping" has given the baby a "tolerance for opium" and that its body is generally toxic from the nightly administration. Neighbors reported its condition to the city authorities and it was removed to a hospital.

If it can live through a present period of violent illness, brought on by lack of the drug, the child may live and overcome the dope habit, they say, but will not be normal again.

(International News Service)
PRINCETON, Ill., Aug. 30.—A musty manuscript, penned by Abraham Lincoln years ago when he was a struggling young attorney in Springfield, Ill., has been unearthed in the archives of the Bureau county court house.

The document is an opinion given by Lincoln for the guidance of the county board regarding and upholding validity of swamp land sales in Bureau county.

Motor Federation Head Declares Motor Buses Must Cut Down Speed

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 30.—Acting on numerous complaints received from all over the state the Pennsylvania Motor Federation today warned that if buses do not check their speed on the main highways steps will be taken to force the issue.

"Many instances have been brought to our attention," said S. Edward Gable, president of the federation, "in which buses have been operated at speeds far in excess of the 30-mile limit set for them in the motor code. This endangers not only the safety of the passengers, but of all others on the highways. Speed in travel is essential, but highway safety is paramount and when the legislature decided that 30 miles an hour must be the maximum for buses it meant that these heavy vehicles under all circumstances should be held within that limit."

"The bus has found wide favor in Pennsylvania," he continued, "and has taken a place alongside of the railway train, the trolley car and the private automobile as a means of transportation. It has its place on the public highway, but it must hold to that place and not overstep the limitations of the law in speed, nor in any other phase of operation."

"The bus, as does the railway train and trolley car, moved along a private right of way there would be no difficulty. But the bus must take its place with the pleasure car, the truck, the motorcycle and the pedestrian on the main arteries of travel. It must abide by the regulations of the road in whatever state and whatever municipality it is operating. It has no special road privileges. Yet it must hold to a fixed schedule as closely as possible. This schedule, however, must not be such that it requires the driver to break the laws in order to hold to it."

"Time must be made on the road, else the bus loses much of its utility as a common carrier. But the general safety of all other users of the highway, as well as that of the bus passengers, must at all times be taken into consideration and excessive speed and reckless operation of buses in order to hold to schedule will not be tolerated in Pennsylvania."

"The bus as a means of overland transportation, as well as for urban and interurban use, is comfortable and convenient. It is here to stay, as its rapidly growing usage throughout the nation indicates, but it must hold to the laws governing its operation, just as do other public utilities. Bus line operators are taking every precaution to safeguard their passengers, but they must look to the safety of all on the highways."

"By taking a firm stand in this matter," Mr. Gable said, "the federation does not want to do anything that will work hardship with the operators of the buses. 'All we ask,' he stated, 'is that these vehicles comply with the letter with the provisions of the motor code.'"

Rotarians Attend Pulaski Corn Roast

New Game At Overlook; News Notes Of New Wilmington

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 30.—Rotarians of New Wilmington turned out in a body to attend the corn roast given in honor of the local club Wednesday evening. The social party was held at the farm of Dr. Frederick Taylor near Pulaski.

Flashing into the limelight as a carrier of a new and interesting game to New Wilmington is the Overlook sanitarium, the officials of which are installing a shuffle-board apparatus. The shuffle-board is a deck game that is played with a disk shaped somewhat like a hockey puck. The board is 50 feet long and 10 feet wide and is fitted with numerous holes. The installation of the board at the sanitarium is now practically complete.

Will McLaughry brought the idea back from St. Petersburg, Fla.

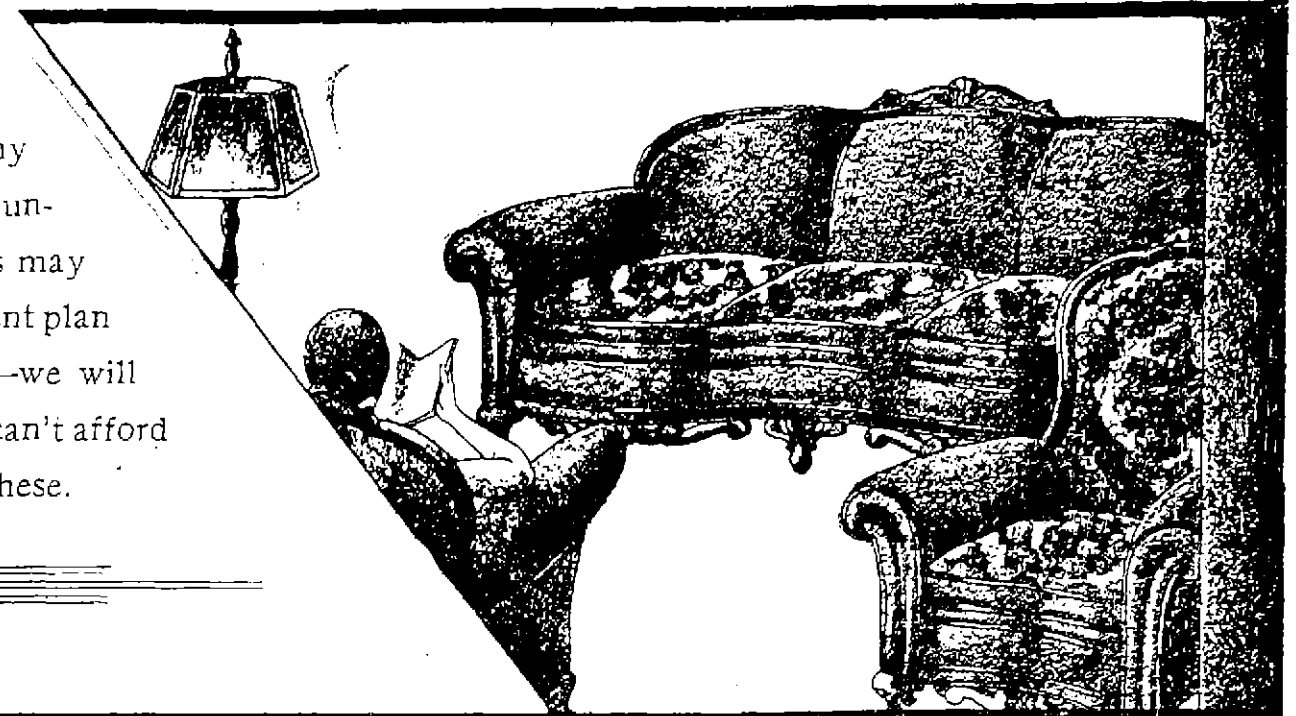

A meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the local United Presbyterian church was held in the church parlor here Wednesday afternoon. Several of the women took part in an educational program.

In order to fit it perfectly for the winter months, the home of the local Boy Scout troop is now being repaired and altered by carpenters. The scouts are also busy fixing up details around their meeting house.

J. George Lutz, professor of chemistry at Westminster college here, is expected in town today.

Autoists Given State Warning

Change Of Address Must Be Provided By Owners Of Autos In State

HARRISBURG, Aug. 30.—A sure sign of fall, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Benjamin G. Eynon today issued his first warning against failure to notify his bureau of changes in addresses so that motor registration applications for 1930 may reach 1929 license holders. The new applications will go out in the mails beginning October 1. Eynon said "many thousands of owners, as usual, will fail to receive them and complain loudly about the 'inefficiency' of the bureau. Unfortunately no device has been perfected which will automatically record that John Jones of Pottsville has moved to Wapwallopen, or that John Smith of Philadelphia has gone to Pittsburgh."

With the mailing of 74,847 letters answering various inquiries, the correspondence section of the state bureau of motor vehicles established a new record during July. The large number was due to queries concerning the gasoline tax collection of which was transferred to the bureau from the auditor general's department.

New Haven Stores Keep Building Heights Down

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Aug. 30.—New York chain store interests leasing the eight-story Cutler building at Church and Chapel streets here for a long period of years, has decided to raze the structure and replace it with a three story affair, on the theory that New Haveners do not like to go above the third floor when they enter the old business district here for shopping purposes.

Several other tall business buildings in the same district have been replaced by two and three story affairs in the last few years.

KDKA To Construct New Sending Station

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Construction of the new transmitting station KDKA near Saxonburg, Pa., will begin within the next two weeks, officials of the Westinghouse Electrical & Manufacturing company in charge of the radio work, announced Thursday.

Work in the transmitter itself has been started but the plans for the building have not been completed nor the contract let.

The first broadcasting from the new station which will be located a mile from Saxonburg on the Pittsburgh-Butler road will be early in 1930, officials of the company said.

GROVE CITY

The regular meeting of the Grove City Rotary club was held Tuesday noon in the Penn Grove hotel. A very noticeable improvement in the attendance was observed. The past few weeks the attendance has been light owing to the fact that many have been on their vacations.

Frank Poehlman, superintendent of the Grove City Electric Light plant, was the speaker and gave a very interesting talk on the operation of the plant since it has been located in the new quarters with new equipment.

Mr. Poehlman pointed out many of the advantages of a municipal owned plant and the money that had been saved for the taxpayers of Grove City by operating their own plant.

The employees of the J. C. Penny company enjoyed a picnic Wednesday evening in Memorial park. A picnic supper was served at the park and a series of sports were enjoyed.

Many former residents arrived in Grove City to be present at the Mc Bride reunion which was held Wednesday evening. This reunion of old chums is one of the largest of this nature in this locality.

Mrs. Ed Dale, Miss Nancy Frew, Miss Elena Johnston, Mrs. Edith Houston, Miss Mary DeFrance and Miss Selkirk Burgess have returned to their homes here after enjoying a week's boat trip down the Ohio river to Cincinnati, returning over the same route.

The brim snaps down all around. The crown is not intended to be dented—but rather is creased in the optimo style of the panama. The early sponsor of this hat was Grover Whalen, immaculate police commissioner of the city of New York. Of course we have, too, more conservative shapes in light weight Felt Hats. All are $3.45.

Job Agencies For Vets Urged By Gen. Hines

Veterans Bureau Head Advocates U. S. Employment System For World War Vets

MANY SUFFER FROM NERVOUS DISEASES

Speaking before the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Wednesday, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, director of the United States Veterans bureau, urged establishment of a huge government system of employment bureaus to obtain jobs for world war veterans, according to word received here from James Bell, delegate of the Harry L. McBride post, who is attending the convention in St. Paul.

Increasing numbers of veterans are applying to various bureaus interested in their welfare, seeking employment, but there is no appropriation available to assist former soldiers to find jobs. He recommended that congress amend the present veterans act, and appropriate a fund to establish an employment program.

General Hines stated further that the Veterans bureau up to June of this year had spent $4,774,636.525 for veterans' relief. Acting as a bank, the bureau has loaned $129,025,880 to 1,380,684 veterans on their adjusted service certificates. Of the 27,487 veterans now in government hospitals, 50 per cent of them are nervous or mental cases resulting from the war.

General Hines emphasized his conviction that the compensation roll of the bureau should be in every sense an "honor roll," bearing the name of every veteran suffering from a service-connected disability of compensable degree, but including none not entitled under the law. It would be unfair both to the veterans and the government, he stated, to award compensation to men not eligible as long as the chief requirement is a service-connected disability and an honorable discharge and it is not alone the responsibility of the Veterans bureau, but very much the obligation of the veterans' organizations in their work among veterans, to see to it that the list of compensation beneficiaries remains an "honor roll."

Commenting on the present hospitalization situation, the director stated that since the act of June 7, 1924, gave the necessary authority, hospitalization has been extended to more than 162,000 whose diseases or injuries were not due to military service, and of the 27,487 now hospitalized under the supervision of the bureau. 11,823 are of this class.

General Hines advocated a national policy which would provide a definite and permanent program for the administration of veterans' affairs in the event of future wars, including specification of the types of citizens which should be selected for service, eliminating the mental or physical deficiencies.

"If a definite program of relief for veterans and their dependents had been adopted prior to the World war, the unsatisfactory condition of veteran relief experienced in solving the many problems never would have developed, adjustment of all claims could have been effected much more promptly and a great deal of needless suffering would have been avoided."

July Drought Hit New England Apples

(International News Service) BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The drought of nearly a month's duration which caused damage estimated at $3,000,000 to New England crops, had little effect upon the potato crop but reduced the probable apple output 6.4 per cent, the survey of the New England crop reporting service of the department of agriculture reveals.

The dry weather during June and July counteracted the favorable prospects offered by the heavy apple bloom and the fair set. Insect and disease damage has ranged from light to average in most sections. While the McIntosh yield is expected to be materially better than in 1928, Baldwin and other important varieties promise to produce light crops. Production is now forecast as 1,560,000 barrels as compared with the 1,479,000 barrels harvested last year, and the five-year average of 1,521,000 barrels.

The New England potato crop is now estimated at 43,348,000 bushels compared with 45,092,000 bushels harvested in 1928 and the five-year average of 47,253,000 bushels.

In Aroostock county rainfall has been sufficiently heavy to encourage a good growth of tops which are likely to succumb to blight if present moisture conditions persist throughout August.

The dry weather during the past month has added the potato crop materially, since records indicate that dry weather is invariably more favorable to a good yield than excessive rainfall.

Texas Watches Sky For Sight Of Meteor

(International News Service) FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 30.—Recalling the splendor of the famed "Texas fire ball" flaming meteor which flashed across the Ft. Worth skyline last August 8 local star gazers have again trained their eyes upon the heavens hoping that some time during the month the spectacle will again present itself.

Although it was for only a few seconds the "fire ball" immediately won its place in meteorological history. It had never been seen before either in Texas or any other locality and from the many descriptions obtained presented one of the most gorgeous spectacles ever presented on the heavenly stage.

A number of expert meteorologists have come here for a possible view of the flaming meteor this month hoping that it will put in an appearance. The observations will be made not only from Fort Worth but from a number of surrounding cities which also had a view of the "fire ball" last year.

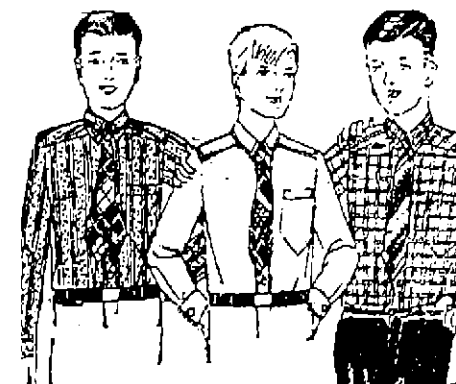

The meteor was calculated to have been about 22 of a mile in diameter when first seen, expanding during the first few seconds it was visible to 2.2 miles. Its speed was estimated at 43.6 miles an hour.

Many Cities Want
Sale Sign Robber

Charge Reid Plundered Homes All Over Country While Posing
As Buyer

Total Loot Of Man Held For Thefts In Philadelphia
Estimated At Over
$75,000

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 30.— Reports of robberies which he is alleged to have committed in more than a score of the largest cities in the country, involving losses of more than $75,000, were presented as evidence yesterday when John Reid of New York City was held without bail by Magistrate Oswald, sitting in city hall police court.

"For Sale Sign Reid," as he is known at the detective headquarters, was captured here on August 13. Before that time detectives say he probably plundered a hundred or more homes, while posing as a prospective buyer of houses bearing a "for sale" sign.

Daily the mails add further evidence of Reid's method of working as he traveled across the continent, moving to a new city when things "became too hot" in the locality in which he had been staying.

Accused of Scores of Thefts.

Records of robberies, which Reid and his companion are accused of perpetrating, received thus far by Detectives John Clark and Ford, in charge of the investigation, include 17 complaints from New York state, eight from this vicinity, three from Pittsburgh, three from Connecticut, two from Baltimore, two from Boston and a collection of smaller robberies reported from intervening states.

The latest to be received was a complaint which came in the mail yesterday from Altadena, Calif., near Los Angeles, the victim of which,
Mrs. Samuel H. French of 1704 East Foothill boulevard, had recognized in a picture of Reid, which she had seen in a Philadelphia newspaper, the "Mr.
Winter" who had robbed her home of a diamond ring and ear pin valued at $2000.

Mrs. French wrote that the man whom she believed to be Reid robbed her of jewels left on a dressing room
few minutes to learn the cause of frightened mewling emanating from a pet cat.

Many of Reid's victims, including several women from New York City, have called at the city hall detective headquarters and identified him, and others are expected. In addition, in response to many requests from police headquarters of many cities, Reid's picture and fingerprints are being mailed to various sections.

Served Seven-Year Term Here.

Detectives Clark and Ford, while looking up Reid's police record, learned that during a seven-year term, which he served in the Eastern penitentiary, he had been one of the ring leaders in trouble in the prison, during the administration of Robert Mc-Kenny as warden, resulting in the removal of Reid and a number of others to the Western penitentiary.

It was also learned, Detective Clark stated, that Reid has already been convicted of three felonies in New York and if returned to that state for trial on the charges of robbery now pending, probably would be sent to prison for life.

Reid was captured by Ford and Clark as he emerged from the garage of an automobile hiring agency, near Fifteenth and Market streets, after a woman victim had telephoned to the police the license number of the automobile in which he and his woman accomplice had driven away from her home, after taking several hundred dollars worth of jewelry.

The woman who accompanied Reid in the robberies has not been captured and is believed to have disposed of $30,000 worth of the plunder last week in New York City.

Scouts Reach City Tomorrow

Elaborate "Welcome Home" Program Planned By Legion

Official welcome will be accorded the returning Boy Scouts of Lawrence county who have been touring Europe following the close of the international jamboree Saturday evening. Gordon Kline, chairman of the American Legion Boy Scout activities committee, announced this morning.

The time for the program has been fixed indefinitely and one of the plans had to be held in abeyance pending definite word as to when the boys would get back home. It had been anticipated that the delegation would arrive this evening, and plans had been shaped toward such a program.

Although the boys will return here tomorrow morning at 10:30, the official welcome will not take place until the evening.

The arrangements as mapped out by the committee call for the parade.

formation at East and North streets at 7:15. The parade will then move promptly down East to Washington, thence to the Diamond and from there up Jefferson street to the Legion Home, where a platform will be erected and a brief speaking program carried out.

Mayor W. H. Gillespie will welcome the boys back in behalf of the city administration and citizens, while Attorney Walter W. Ebrahim will extend the welcome from the Perry S. Gaston Post of the American Legion. The Consistory Legion of Honor bugle and drum corps will furnish the music for the parade and will assemble at the Cathedral Saturday evening at 6:45 for the event.

Boy Scouts, American Legion members, city officials and citizens will make up the parade. American Legion members are asked to meet at the Legion Home at seven o'clock.

Mayor Gillespie asks all citizens and business houses of the downtown district to display the American flag tomorrow in honor of the occasion.

LADY MARY HEATH HAS SLIGHT CHANCE TO MAKE RECOVERY

early hour this morning, and it was impossible for the physicians to say whether she would recover from her injuries. It may be several days before the crisis is past.

Crashes Through Roof

Lady Heath's critical injuries were sustained when the new Great Lakes bi-plane she was testing preparatory to its use in the National races, crashed through the roof of a loft building here. Side-slipping her plane as she prepared to land, Lady Heath suddenly found herself racing toward a huge smoke-stack. She pulled the plane to one side, and a moment later the machine crashed through the roof of the six-story building, ending up in a mass of tangled wreckage on the top floor.

While her mechanic, Erwin Kirk, was able to jump from the plane just before it tore through the roof with its motor revolving at full speed and thus escape serious injuries, Lady Heath was strapped in her cockpit and was rendered unconscious by the impact.

Fractured Skull

Extricated from the wreckage and rushed to the hospital, she was found suffering from a fractured skull, a fractured jawbone and severe contusions of the head. Part of the jawbone, it was reported, was shattered and penetrated the skull.

At the Emergency Clinic, her life was virtually despaired of, but it was hoped that a delicate operation might possibly save her life. It was regarded as a somewhat encouraging sign that she survived the operation, but there still is only slight hope of her recovery.

Life In Balance

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—The life of Lady Mary Heath, England's famous aviatrix, was hanging in the balance early today.

At 7 o'clock this morning her condition was reported as unchanged "no better and no worse." It was stated that if the aviatrix can survive the next 36 hours her recovery may be expected, although she will never be able to fly again.

According to unauthorized reports, Lady Heath may be blinded for life. A noted Cleveland brain surgeon performed a very delicate operation on Lady Heath's badly fractured skull last night with the assistance of Dr. H. B. Wright, chief medical officer of the National air races.

Following the operation it was reported that the aviatrix "seemed to be improving" although her condition was still very critical.

Mt. Jackson Schools Are Ready To Open

School Term Will Get Under Way September 3rd; All School Consolidated

Announcement was made this morning by Howard Butler, superintendent of the Mt. Jackson schools, that the term will open on the morning of Tuesday, September 3.

The entire township has now been consolidated and all pupils of North Beaver township will attend the consolidated school in Mt. Jackson, to which a vocational department has been added this year. Pupils will be transported to and from school by bus. The Martin school was closed this year, completing the consolidation of the district.

Eighteen teachers will be employed in the Mt. Jackson schools, 11 in the grades, two in the vocational school and five in the high school.

In general, pride is at the bottom of all great mistakes.—Ruskin.

NEW CASTLE FAIR CLOSING GREATEST SUCCESS OF YEARS

spectators in the grandstand had a view of the prize cattle and draft horses that have been on exhibition. Following the cavalcade an impromptu pony race was held and then the show. For the show the grandstand was nearly filled and outside the midway was crowded until late in the evening.

Indications at noon today were that the last day would be a large one, although usually the closing day does not attract so many people. Late this evening the cattle and horses will be going out in trucks, the midway folks will be preparing to move out, the last hot dog will be sold, and by Saturday afternoon the fair grounds will once more be a great open space in Hickory township instead of the center of attraction for Lawrence county.

Cow Calling Contest

Two interesting features marked the afternoon racing events, the cow calling contest and the shortest married couple contest.

City folks who imagined that one called cows with a whistle, or sent them a post card, saw and heard some of the best cow callers in western Pennsylvania. The latter hunted lads whose voices bellowed out over the four ground and had a lot of Guernseys down in the cattle barn straining at their leashes.

Seven cow callers answered the starter's call, F. P. Forbes, J. N. Fullerton, Everett Boak, H. H. Kemmerer, Jim McGoun, W. H. McCullough and Francis McCracken.

Their technique was as different as their clothes. Forbes stood with his feet apart and his face uplifted to the clouds, and when he opened his mouth a fog horn would have been hard put to compete with him.

Fullerton, with his "soo boss," made a hit with the crowd, while McGoun extended a personal invitation to the cows to come in and get their lunch.

Boak duplicated somewhat his high, shrill, hoarse call, and McCracken came through with a series of staccato yelps that penetrated for miles.

Music Teacher Wins

The prize cow caller, according to Judge Ed. Wagner, was W. H. McCullough, who is a music teacher by profession. Not for Mac the rough and ready howls of the ordinary cow caller. Not for him the hackneyed cries of the farm. Instead he added a musical touch to his call, the theory apparently being that musical calls made for contented cows, and you know what the advertisement says about contented cows.

Soulful and reverent, musical and impelling, McCullough called the cows until one was convinced that his private herd probably gave up their milk to the strains of Cavallera Rustana, and ate their dinner to the music of the Marche Militaire. But once the music stopped, the cows came back to the call, and the customers complained that a music teacher was a professional, and after all, this was an amateur contest. Merely the croakings of a few of the disappointed, that's all, and Mac got the $10 bill offered by Fred L. Rentz, president of The New Castle News.

Shortest Couple Contest

The shortest married couple contest surprised the fair officials with the number of entries. Four couples answered the call, and while they were all short, there was one couple that was easily the winner, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Petrie of New Castle. Being Scotch, the pastor is always a little short, but on Thursday afternoon he was short enough, or rather he and his wife were short, with the $10 offered by Fred L. Rentz.

The total yardage of Rev. and Mrs. Petrie, or rather the inchage, was 119. The other contestants were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richeal, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Skunder and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fullerton.

Another diversion of the time between heats was the presentation by Starter Chester Bands of the silver loving cup offered by the Fair Association to the representative of the winning relay team. J. W. Kyle, master of Pomona Grange, accepted the cup on behalf of the fleet-footed farmer boys, who won the relay race for civic clubs on Wednesday afternoon, and now all they have to do to win the cup permanently is to win it two more years.

Today will see the chicken calling contest and the largest family present contest. The champion chicken caller will receive a $10 prize from The News and the largest family registered on the grounds will receive a year's subscription to The New Castle News. The Thomas Cooper prize, $10 for the Grange having the largest representation registered during the fair, will also be awarded.

This year's fair will be remembered for its excellence. This is the best day, and to have missed the fair this year is to have missed a truly interesting event.

YOUNGSTOWN MAN VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH NEAR HARBOR

New Castle hospital, Hoback, who had suffered a fracture of the skull and internal injuries, died early this morning.

Anderson was considerably cut and bruised about the head and face. It is believed that he is also injured internally. X-ray pictures were taken shortly after he was brought into the hospital, to determine the nature of his internal injuries.

Car Goes Into Ditch

According to the story told by Coroner J. P. Caldwell by Anderson at the hospital this morning, he and Hoback started to drive to New Castle Thursday evening. "I was driving," said Anderson. "We were coming down a grade near a coal bank west of the Harbor at a speed of about 35 miles an hour. I put my foot on the brake. It seemed to lock or something or I pressed it too hard. I do not know what happened, but the car gave a jerk and plunged to the west side of the road. I managed to keep it from going into the ditch on the west side, but it shot back to the right side and went into the ditch on the right side of the road. I did not know anything more until I awakened in the hospital."

Hoback, the dead man is single. He is survived by one brother, Nick Hoback, of Youngstown. The remains were taken to Youngstown for interment.

Hoback resided at 34 North Main avenue and Anderson's home is at 435 East Federal street.

Normal Flying Speed Necessary For Safety Says Veteran Flier

The New Castle Fair calls to mind the past anniversaries of this same event.

Many remember that one of the aviators at the New Castle Fair some years ago was the now famous Jack Morris.

He used the property north of the race track for his landing field. Many New Castle people took their first plane ride with him.

Barn storming was Capt. Morris' specialty at that time. Since those days he has had more than 6000 flying hours to his credit, nearly a year in the air.

He has had some narrow escapes with ten forced landings and one hundred emergency landings.

His main rule for flying students is "always keep flying speed." According to Morris, safe landings can be made after motor failure, if the pilot will use average skill and caution. Motor failure is not so fatal as many suppose. Flying speed is most important, since the life of the plane depends upon its velocity. A speed below normal causes the tail-

(International News Service.)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30. — People who do their eating with a view to enjoying same and not just to live, are sitting as judges here in a salad war.

L. E. Behrmer, noted musical impresario, has discovered and put forth a salad composed of equal parts of Bermuda onion and bananas. This combination, he says with sundry lip-smacks, produces an entirely new flavor.

A "previously 'invented' salad of onion and orange was brought forward to compete with the 'Lost Chord' of Impresario Behrmer, and so the controversy rages.

Propose Prison Farm At Waynesburg

WAYNEBURG, Pa., Aug. 30. — The county grand jury today approved a proposal made by the county commissioners for creation of a work-house and prison farm on the George Worley farm, two miles east of here. The proposition will also have to pass the grand jury which convenes here in December before it will be finally approved.

Plans submitted by the county commissioners call for purchase of the farm at a price of $50,000 and for construction of a modern jail at an approximate cost of $125,000 to accommodate 60 prisoners. The farm contains a 12-room house suitable for a sheriff's residence, in addition to five producing gas wells and limestone deposits, which it is planned to develop commercially with prison labor.

They have been busy every day since they arrived at the camp. They have been swimming, hiking, playing games and have presented several clever programs in the evenings. The girls will probably regret leaving.

The Golden Text

"THE HAND OF OUR GOD IS UPON ALL THEM THAT SEEK HIM, FOR GOOD" — Ezra 8:22

By DR. ALVIN R. BELL.
As the children of Israel were carried away into captivity in three different groups so their return to their native land was in three distinct groups, the first under Zerubbabel in 526 B. C., the second under Ezra in 457 B. C. and third under Nehemiah 14 years later. Our lesson is concerned with the second of these migrations in which Ezra the scribe led a company of perhaps seven or eight thousand souls over the long and hazardous journey of some nine hundred miles from Babylon around the great desert to Jerusalem accomplishing the journey in four months.

Ezra, the scribe.
Ezra is the outstanding character in this historic movement, a descendant of Aaron, the high priest, "a ready scribe in the law of Moses" and one who stood close to Artaxerxes, the Persian king for in compliance with a request the king issued a decree empowering him to lead back to Jerusalem any of the children of the captivity who might desire to return following the expedition most generously and authoritatively Ezra to draw upon the royal treasures of Palestine as needed and mutually appointing him sovereign over his fatherland.

Ezra's Faith.
The gold and silver turned over to Ezra by his countrymen and the king had a value of nearly $5,000,000 computed in modern terms and yet Ezra trusted wholly in his God to bring him safely to his destination despite all perils of robbers.

For "I was chosen to ask of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way" because we had spoken unto the king, saying "The hand of our God is upon all them that seek him, for good; but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him. So we rested and besought our God for this, and he was entreated of us." Ezra was so sure of the power and the presence of the hand of God upon him that he was willing to show the king that he would practice what he preached. "The hand of the Lord his God upon him," 7:28, "according to the good hand of his God upon him," 8:22, "the hand of our God was upon us and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and the sea in wait by the way," 8:31. No hand that threatens us is any match for this hand of God to which Ezra trusted himself and his all.

Ezra's Business Methods.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—New York is the prize sap town of the known world.

A living billboard of 26 chorus girls, scantily costumed, bathed in the rays of a dozen powerful Klieg spotlights, was displayed outside a theater on Broadway near 45th street for the opening of a motion picture, thereby attracting a crowd greater than ever jammed the sector, except, perhaps, on election night or New Year's eve.

The crowd milled and gaped and gawked and giggled and called to one and other and pointed aloft at the unfortunate young women who were doing nothing but standing, each on a letter of the sign. Women fainted in the press and the reserves from nearby police stations had difficulty in opening the thoroughfare to traffic.

There's more female nudity on exhibition in New York than any other city. Paris not excepted; and yet the sight of a couple of dozen chorus girls' legs on a billboard nearly precipitates a riot on Broadway!

It's a fortunate thing our friend the London Bus Conductor wasn't in the crowd—the one who said: "Urry up, liddle, legs ain't no treat to me!"

WELL, SHE WANTED THE DOG

Had a woman we'll call Mrs. X, dawg lover, gone in for fiction, she'd have made Old Charles Payson Terhune look like a bent spoke in the rear wheel of a doll buggy the day after Christmas.

Mrs. X's pet bull pet strayed from her suite in a hotel and Mrs. X advertised the fact in a morning newspaper. Instead of offering a reward and letting it go at that, she added a line to the effect that a sick kiddie would cry itself to sleep each night until the little bone polisher gets back home.

The city editor, sensing a "human interest" yarn, dispatched to the hotel the best sob-stuff horn-rim on the staff, accompanied by a photographer.

Mrs. X was called upon to produce her heart-broken offspring to be photographed for the morning paper, the tears coursing down its fever-brightened cheeks, she up and admitted she'd just put the sick kid stuff into the ad to make it more "intriguing."

Facts sure are a nuisance when you want to get at the truth of things. Any city editor will tell you the same thing.

JUST CAN'T PROTECT HIM

The Society for the Protection of the Pristine Sap, working in conjunction with federal authorities, have been sprinkling insect powder around the financial district with the idea of exterminating tipster houses and fake brokerage concerns.

With all the warnings that are broadcast these days about racketeers, you'd think the man or woman with a few thousand dollars of hard earned money to invest would go to a reputable broker. But no, they pour their tough into the laps of the Big Diamond and Dictionary Lads, 100 of whom have skipped town with their clients' money since the clean-up started.

The Saps have been set back at least $35,000,000, according to estimates computed from enormous phone bills of the fraudulent houses. The telephone company says its business in New York has fallen off $20,000 a day since the drive began. This represents at least $7,000,000 a year in phone bills.

ATMOSPHERE IN CHILDS

Every Childs restaurant in New York is to be given a special name intended to fix the geographical location of the bearyery. The first two to be christened are Childs-Times Square and Childs-Grand Central.

I told that to the Duchess and she elevated her left swallow-wing eyebrow and quizzically inquired: "Well, what of it?"

I couldn't think of any snappy comeback so I let the matter drop. Sometimes I am convinced the Duchess has no soul.

WHAT? THIS ABOUT JIMMY?

The New York World, opposed to Mayor Walker's re-election, has come out and denied Sir James' title to The Best Pressed Mayor Who Ever Graced the City Hall.

He ain't "well dressed," says the World; "he's jaunty."

Of course that's bad; but suppose they'd said he was "natty"!

GIVEN APPOINTMENT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Howard V. Dunn, of Nevada, Ohio, was Thursday appointed chief of the domestic commerce division of the commerce department to succeed Gorton James, of Brookland, Mass., who resigned. Dunn has been in the commerce department for some years.

The difference between an investment and a speculation is simple enough: if it pays it was an investment.—The Toronto Daily Star.

WEBSTER'S GREATEST THOUGHT

Daniel Webster being asked what was the greatest thought that ever occupied his mind replied that the "greatest and grandest thought was individual responsibility."

If all the great men of all times combine their brains they could probably think of no idea more profound—or more tragic. Every man is a part of something—a part of a family, part of a community, part of the government. Up to his capacity he is individually responsible. If he is not willing to do as well as he can he cannot expect the enterprise of which he is a part to do as well as it should.

SCHOOL FOR TRAMPS

A school for tramps giving instruction in hobology is opened in New York by Dan O'Brien so-called king of hoboes. Students will be taught how to travel on freight and passenger car tops or rods; how to cook up a stew; how to hitch-hike; where to sleep and bathe.

This may not be as ludicrous or useless as it sounds. So much instruction is designed to make us money grubbers so much instruction is planned to make us practical, conventional folks that perhaps the spirit of man needs lessons in throwing off the cares of the world. Perhaps he needs lessons in vagabondage.

THE NEGRO SPIRIT

One reads in "Opportunity" a magazine of Negro life, this verse by Alphonse Butler:

"If as it seems the flower of the dusk
Will fade into the merest little husk
And all her summer bloom will come to naught Along the lane of time and if I ought To fashion verse with sad philosophy
Anent an ultimate I fall to see Just why this flower, dark and wise and odd
May not enrich the dwelling place of God."

There are even so-called scientists who cling with pride to the idea of Nordic supremacy in intellect. But come of the work of colored writers indicates that no single race has sequestered and preserved all the brains and all the imagination.

HUMAN USAGE

Lay down all the laws in all the books you will, human usage is still the first and most powerful law. It used to be rude and unmannerly to smoke a pipe on the street or at formal affairs. Now Ambassador Dawes and the Prince of Wales see fit to smoke a pipe anywhere. And it is no longer improper.

Over 150,000 Get Dividend Checks

Dividend Is Paid To Army Of Stockholders By Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Checks for the one hundred and eight-eighth consecutive dividend paid by the Pennsylvania Railroad were mailed Wednesday. The total disbursement, representing a quarterly return of 3 per cent on capital stock, will be $11,265,479. A total of 150,000 stockholders, located in every state of the Union and practically every country of the globe, more than half of them women, will participate.

A feature in connection with the payment of this dividend is the fact that a new and specially designed time and labor saving machine was used in the task of preparing the checks for mailing.

Under old methods, approximately two weeks were required to get the dividend checks ready for mailing. The machine now in use prints 3,600 checks and stubs an hour, and is capable of completing the entire dividend payment in two days.

High Wages Now Keep Much Labor On Farms

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Thousands of laborers are continuing to stay with the farm and forego their influx to the city according to a bulletin from the research department of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

The supply of farm labor in the state is reported at 96 per cent and demand at 92 per cent of normal. Farm wages are reported a trifle higher than a year ago with the monthly wages with board reported at $43.25 per month and the monthly wages without board at $56. ## School Is Closed; Pupils Still Go

Forty Boys And Girls Sent By Parents To Structure Without Teacher

EPHRATA, Pa., Aug. 30.—For three days forty boys and girls, on orders of their parents, have reported at 9 o'clock in the morning at an abandoned red schoolhouse in the Hahnstown school district of Ephrata township in Lancaster county.

Several miles away is a new consolidated building, erected at the instance of school authorities and open since Monday.

The parents of the children who formerly attended the old building rebelled against the consolidation and refuse to send their children to the consolidated school.

They said they intend to keep the pupils going to the old building, although it is deserted and there are no teachers there.

Washington Looks For Fierce Scrap Between Deneen, Ruth McCormick For Office Of Illinois Senatorship

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—While Senator Charles S. Deneen of Illinois has been kept here all summer helping to frame the tariff bill, Washington learns that Congresswoman at Large Ruth Hanna McCormick also of the Sucker state, has been working overtime back among the home folks trying to guarantee Mr. Deneen's involuntary retirement when he comes up for re-election next spring—and that she has something against Mr. Deneen for himself alone but that she wants to run for the Senate in place of him.

Washington may not be entitled to claim to know much about Illinois politics but it has a perfectly good right to be especially interested in this particular fight.

If Mrs. McCormick wins at the primaries in the spring and again at the polls in November, she will be the first regularly elected woman senator in American history. Mrs. Rebecca Felton did serve a few hours by gubernatorial appointment, a number of years ago, but it was a purely technical, honorary term of no significance whatever for practical political purposes.

Senator CHARLES S. DENEEN Congresswoman RUTH HANNA MCCORMICK

A more courteous senatorship like Mrs. Felton's will not be satisfactory to Congresswoman McCormick. She desires the customary full six years at least—characterized by the usual committee activities, frequent participation in ballots, plenty of speeches and all the patronage and other privileges that go with any complete, unqualified senatorship.

As a chivalrous politician Senator Deneen is understood to sympathize, in principle, with the women voters' ambition to have one of their own number in the upper house of Congress—but to object to it from his state, just at a time when he had planned to run for re-election.

Ordinarily the feeling among old political campaigners in Washington is that a woman aspirant for an important office does not stand much chance against a man who also has his heart set on it for the simple reason that the man generally has had a great deal more experience.

In the present instance the betting is about even.

ing objectionable about "practical" some obvious element. It is fatal however for a reformer to get things completely cleaned up because then he is no longer needed in office to continue it.

Charles S. Deneen never made that mistake.

Expressions like "hard boiled" do not sound very well but there is nothing objectionable about "practical" some obvious element.

Washington looks to see them put on one of the finest scraps in many a long day for that Illinois senatorship—and no one will need to feel sorry for either one of them however it comes out.

The best judges impression of Mrs. McCormick is that no one knows politics any better than she does.

As Mark Hanna's daughter she ought to.

As the wife of the late Senator Medill McCormick she had every opportunity to develop whatever flag she inherited.

Money is not supposed to count in political campaigns but it does help in getting acquainted throughout a big state like the Illinois—and Mrs. McCormick has barrels of it—the Mark Hanna millions of her own; a goodly chunk of the Chicago Tribune Media's and of the agricultural machinery McCormicks' through her husband.

And she is an exceedingly smart woman on her own account.

Senator Deneen is an acute individual too.

Years ago when I used to know him in Chicago he had a great reputation as a reformer. He was Cook county prosecutor then and always overlastingly he was engaged in

Dr. Eckener Is To Be Honored

Commander Of Graf Zeppelin Is Guest Of New York City

PARADES UP OLD BROADWAY ROUTE

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The welcome of Broadway—that thundering confetti-throwing accolade which New York reserves for visiting heroes—awaited Dr. Hugo Eckener today.

To the accompaniment of ringing cheers of millions and the barrage of torn paper with which this metropolis crowns its idols of the day, the commander of the globe-girdling dirigible Graf Zeppelin was to make the famous march of triumph to lower Broadway to the City Hall for an official reception by Mayor James J. Walker.

Leave Battery At Noon
Leaving the Battery at noon, the master mariner of the air who piloted the Graf on the pioneer aerial commercial circumnavigation of the globe, was to be accorded the greatest honor that it is in the power of this city to give.

In recognition of his feat in shippering the gigantic craft around the world in a little more than twenty-one days, a mammoth reception has been planned, which will start when Dr. Eckener arrives at the Battery.

The army and the navy as well as the citizens of New York will participate in the tremendous welcome to the man who made reality of the ancient dreams of world conquest of the skies.

Whalen Is Greeter
Grover A. Whalen, New York's commissioner of police, is laying aside his badge of office for this one day, in order to become again the city's official greeter, as such he will depart on the municipal tug Macom from the Battery at 11 a. m. to meet the Zeppelin's commander and escort him to city hall.

A committee of prominent German Americans will also be aboard the Macom to assist in the greeting. Following the march up Broadway, Mayor Walker will receive the Dirigible's commander on the steps of City Hall, to voice the welcome and admiration of the city to its distinguished guest. Commissioner Whalen will also speak at the ceremony, and Dr. Eckener is slated to make a reply.

Meanwhile, preparations were being rushed at the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, New Jersey. Starting and finishing point of the round the world flight, for the Graf's return to its home base at Friedrichshafen, Germany.

The start has now been set for midnight Saturday, and orders have been issued to the Zeppelin's crew to have all repairs effected and refueling completed by four o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Flies To New York
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Still glowing from the warmth of his official welcome in the Capital, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, took off from the Naval flying field at Anacostia at 7:14 o'clock this morning to fly to New York, where a grand reception awaits him.

Dr. Eckener left Washington in the same transport plane in which he was flown down from New York yesterday afternoon.

While here he called on President Hoover and most of the cabinet officers in town, expressing his thanks for the aid rendered the Graf on the round-the-world flight, and being congratulated in turn for the great feat.

Dog Is Perfect Caddy; Never Misses A Ball

Minneapolis Woman's Pet Takes Great Delight Chasing White Pellets For Her

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 30.—The perfect caddy has been discovered!

Not once in her entire golfing career has Zan, a big Belgian police dog, failed to retrieve lost golf balls. It is a trick she has learned all by herself. A trick no human being ever taught her.

Not even her master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Ferguson of No. 636 Upton avenue S.

"I was forced to take up golf for my health," Mrs. Ferguson said. "I practiced it in a vacant lot at the side of the house. And after I'd hit the ball, Zan would run after it. Immediately she would bring it back again, and I'd continue to hit it."

Every night Mrs. Ferguson dons her golfing togs, takes her mashie and milderon, and tees off, sending the ball far out into the pasture behind the house.

The nine fun starts for Zan. Eagerly she waits for the shooting of the ball. And then quick as a flash she is after it. Barking with glee, she searches for the ball and brings it back to her mistress.

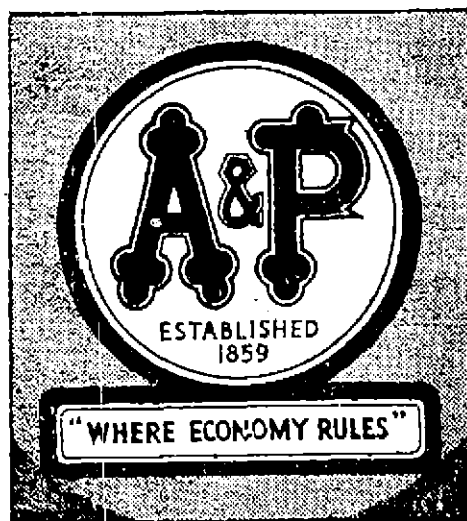

Zan is one year old. She was presented to Mrs. Ferguson by a friend in California when the dog was ten days old. Since then Mrs. Ferguson has nursed her through pneumonia and distemper.

Girl Is Independent If Her Skin Is Tough

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Take, for instance, the cuticle on a girl's hand; if it is tough, the National Association of Cosmeticians was told today, the young woman is sure to be one of those independent types.

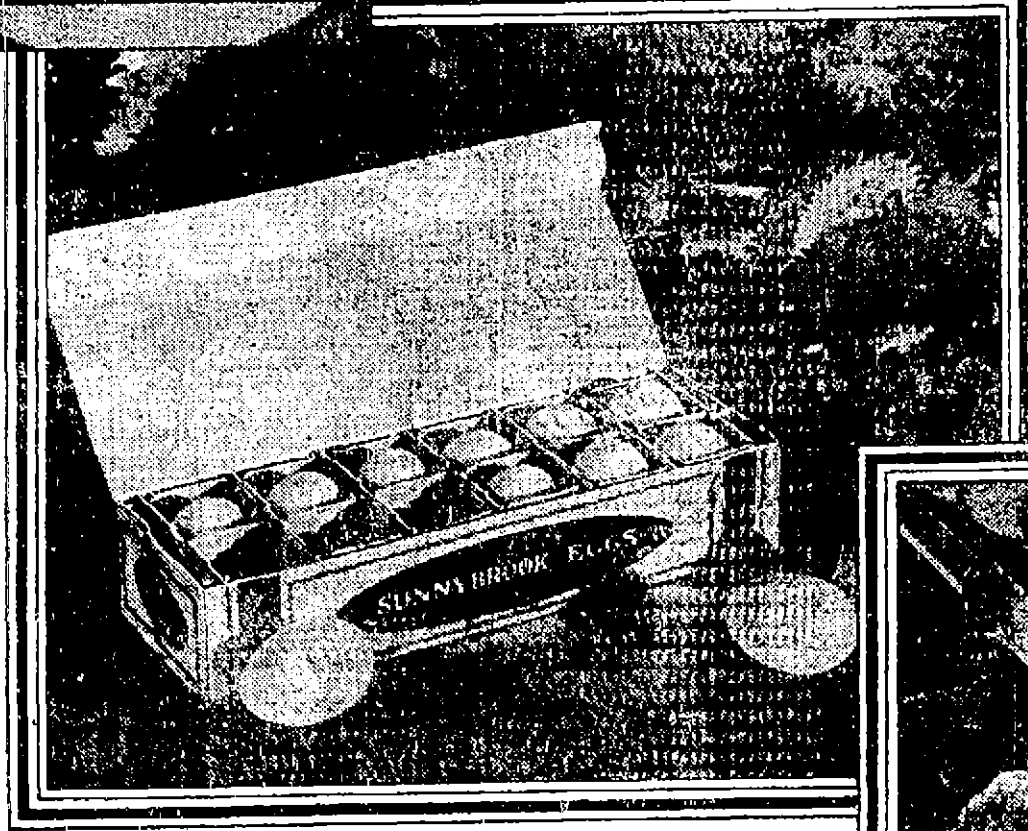

Furthermore, if her skin is pale and thin she is immediately catalogued as the clinging vine kind.

It was not explained whose cuticle indicated character or what skin had to do with temperament, but the delegates seemed satisfied.

City Garage On Site Of Oldest Chicago House

Spot Where Rude Cabin Was Erected In 1779 Will Be Turned Into Parking Place

RECEIPTS WILL NOT PAY TAX ON PROPERTY

By GEORGE C. GALLATI
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—An open air garage, commonly known as a parking place, is to occupy the site of Chicago's most historical spot, the place where Jean Baptiste Pointe de Sauble, colored man from Santo Domingo, erected Chicago's first house.

Care of patrons who park there will be covering land which is worth, a conservative estimate, some $10,000 a piece, for the land is located on the bank of the Chicago river in the midst of the city's great skyscraper district. The old James S. Kirk Soap company building stands on the spot at present, but this structure is to be demolished and the land turned into an open air parking station.

Marquette, Joliet and others, and had come down the Great Lakes in his search for furs that were to go back to the factors in Quebec and thence to the courts of Europe.

Le Mai kept it until 1804 when John Kinzie, Chicago's first white settler, bought it. He enlarged the cabin to accommodate his family and lived there until that fateful August 15, 1812, when the troops from across the river evacuated the place, and started south, only to be massacred by Indian hordes before they had gone five miles.

After the Indian uprising had subsided Kinzie returned to the cabin and lived there until his death in 1823.

"The soap factory long since moved away from the building," officials of the company handling the property said in explaining the decision. "The building is full of tanks and so cannot be remodeled for an office building and cannot be used for any other purpose. Taxes, of course, on an unoccupied building are heavy, so there is nothing to do but tear it down. Until it is leased or sold, it will be an open air parking station which will produce some income, but of course will not pay the taxes even on the unoccupied property."

Lincoln's Shrine To Be Remodeled

Interior Of Monument At Springfield To Be Made More Beautiful

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 30.—The tomb of Abraham Lincoln here is to be made a fitting shrine for the thousands of visitors who come from all parts of the world to pay homage to the great emancipator.

Freezing and thawing have done considerable damage to the shaft of the tomb. Thus it is planned according to an announcement at the state house to remodel the interior of the monument on a scale that will be fitting to the memory of Lincoln. Work on the remodeling will start this fall. Plans and specifications will be submitted for bids within ten days.

The remodeling plans call for the rebuilding of the interior utilizing much space which is now wasted and affording an entrance to the sarcophagus chamber from the reception room. At present it is necessary to view the sarcophagus from a small iron door at the north end of the tomb. A new sarcophagus chamber will be erected and marble and ornamental plaster together with iron grill work will transform the interior of the monument from a cold, dreary room to one of peaceful beauty.

Many of the world's notables have stopped in Springfield to bow their heads in reverence at Lincoln's tomb. President Roosevelt and Marshal Foch halted here in their journeys over the United States to salute the martyred president. Albert, king of Belgium was here in 1919. Others who paused to pay their respects included Calvin Coolidge, Queen Marie of Rumania and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

out awful accumulations of waste matter, impurities and troublesome gas, when it benefits and invigorates sluggish stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and relieves rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, and headaches—then you will understand why so many local people praise this successful medical preparation. No wonder there is such a great demand for Ten Herbs at the Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where this medicine is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs did me a world of good," said Mrs. R. Much, 1418 Page Street, N. S. Pittsburgh, Pa. "I was in a bad physical condition. I had neuritis pains in my shoulders—at times I would almost scream with pain. My sluggish liver caused dizzy spells. My kidneys were out of order as I had pains across my back. I had to be careful what I ate. Food did not digest properly, but formed gas, which caused bloating and palpitation of heart. On several occasions gas caused smothering spells, which gave me quite a scare. Constipation also bothered me."

"Ten Herbs ended the neuritis pains in my shoulders. It put my stomach in good condition, and I found I could eat without fear of misery afterwards. I was free of gas, bloating, palpitation of heart, and smothering spells. My bowels were regulated, and my liver and kidneys began to work as they should. Dizzy spells and pains across my back disappeared. I had new strength and ambition, and felt better in every way. I am pleased to recommend Ten Herbs to others."

Ten Herbs is sold at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Mints' Coinage Slumped In 1928

Pennies And Nickels Lead In Output; Dates Changed On Dies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—While the coinage of money at the United States Mints fell off about 22,000,000 pieces in the calendar year 1928, as compared with 1927, the value of the coinage increased in value was accounted for primarily in the gain in gold coinage, principally $20 gold pieces, according to the director of the mint. These totaled $176,320,000.

At the same time it was learned that the date on all coins manufactured at the three mints, San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia, was changed January 1, to 1929, with formal ceremonies, according to the law. The working dies which are used to stamp the date side of all coins were defaced and destroyed in the presence of officials at the three mints.

The total number of pieces of domestic coinage fell off from 296,010,084 in 1927 to 274,208,285 in 1928, while the value of these pieces increased from $141,147,127 in 1927 to $189,733,337 in the last calendar year. In addition to the domestic coinage for the United States, the mints made 118,000,000 pieces last year of foreign coinage for other countries, as compared with only 3,650,000 pieces the previous year. The coins were manufactured for South American countries.

The largest number of pieces coined during the last year were pennies, which comprised more than one-half of the total. The next in number of pieces was the five-cent piece, of which there were 38,783,000.

Many Women Seek Auto Driver's Permit

Average Of Hundred Drivers Examined Weekly In Mercer County

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Aug. 30.—Each Wednesday this summer has been productive of a class that averaged 100 of new drivers desirous of the requisite license that assembled here to take the test provided by law with the state motor police in this section and the examining board.

It is of interest that the number of women drivers applying show a gain this summer over previous years. The Mercer classes are unusually large due to the fact that the town does not offer the hazards in driving of larger centers and for beginners not sure of their ability increases the chances of passing.

The applicants are well fortified on the rules of the motor code as a rule the examining board say.

Crop failures are the common report these days from all parts of the county due to the unseasonable summer. The fall fruit crop will be light also, it is predicted.

The 46 school districts in Mercer county are ready for reception of 35,000 school children that are enjoying their final week of vacation is the announcement today at the office of the county superintendent of schools.

Four districts started this week, the remainder will be in session next week. The county educators predict the best academic year in the county's history to be that of 1929 and teachers better prepared for their duties by education and experience have gradually brought the standard of county schools up.

Advance information here indicates that the Freshmen classes in the 16 county high schools will break all

Labor Day Program For Cascade Park Has Many Features

The outing season of 1929 will reach its climax at Cascade park, New Castle, on Labor Day, when thousands of holiday-makers will throng the spacious amusement center to mark the last big summer holiday. Cascade will be open and in full operation throughout Labor Day week and on September 9 will inaugurate a special series of Harvest Moon dances.

On Labor Day itself there will be a great array of amusements and attractions appealing to all. A special feature of the afternoon will be the annual labor picnic under the auspices of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly, the only important set observance of the day in this section. This will bring many persons from all parts of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio to the park. Then there will be other thousands, attracted by the special event of the evening, an unusually brilliant display of fireworks in honor of Thomas A. Edison and in celebration of light's golden jubilee.

Lemon ice for cool dessert

Easily made by this special recipe

BOIL for three minutes 2 cups of sugar, 4 cups of water and rind of one lemon. Remove the rind. Add  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of lemon juice, cool and freeze.

This is all there is to it, and you have a delicious and cooling dessert.

Food scientists teach us the value of sweet desserts. They show us that such desserts satisfy the appetite and enable us to quit eating with an enjoyable feeling. For dessert remember the value of cakes, cookies, candies containing chocolate and coconut. Remember stewed apples and apricots. Candied, spiced and preserved fruits. Prepared dates and figs. Canned fruit salad and grapefruit, and gelatine desserts.

The dessert should top a meal containing milk, fruits and vegetables. Variety—tastefully prepared—is the key-note of healthful diets. Meat and cereals are important in daily nourishment.

An endless variety of enjoyable desserts may be purchased today, or they may be made in the kitchen. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

ing feature. A baseball game will be the attraction of the afternoon. In planning its observance of light's golden jubilee, the Cascade management has arranged a program of fireworks that will excel the outstanding displays for which the park is noted. Special set pieces have been designed which will show the first electric lamp invented by Edison, a portrait of Edison in fire and the developed lamp of today. This is observance of the 50th, or golden, anniversary of the invention which is being celebrated throughout the country this year, the first successful incandescent lamp having been made by Edison and lighted on the night of October 21, 1879.

For the dancing both afternoon and evening the music will be furnished by Cliff Ferrie and his Chicago recording orchestra. These versatile musicians have made a decided hit this season and have been declared to be the best dance band hereabouts. Special novelties will be introduced into the Labor Day programs.

Another feature of Cascade which always attracts many families for the all-day outing is the children's free playground, in charge of a trained attendant. Close by is the kiddies' midway with rides and amusements just for the little ones.

Ample parking space and spacious picnic groves and pavilions with free electric and gas cooking facilities complete the array of facilities that make Cascade so popular in this section.

Husband Wins "Raise" In Wife's Divorce Suit

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Husbands, attention!

If the circumstances are right and you have a "break" you only have to be sued by your wife for divorce in order to get a bigger cut of the old pay envelope for your personal spending money.

"I make $24 a week," said Walter Oswald, a school gardener, to Judge Ray Schauer (whose name he blessed by male spouses) "and I keep 35 cents of it."

Mrs. Oswald was told that after 28 years of it she ought to stand married life a little longer, especially as the court could not see how she could be granted alimony out of such a wage. She insisted, however.

"After this you keep $5 a week," the judge told the defendant. "Give her the rest and we'll see if she can't provide you with three meals a day and a place to sleep."

"That's all I want," the husband said.

See Yessenin Poems As Suicide Cause

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—The fatalistic poems of the mad Serge Yessenin, one-time husband of the late Isadora Duncan, have driven another group of young Russian Bohemians to suicide as the poet himself did more than three years ago. A total of 18 persons are known to have followed Yessenin to his "haven of drink and the devil" in the last few months.

Three "Comsomols," Communist youths, are the most recent victims. One of them was a girl. They shot and killed themselves on successive days because the village newspaper exposed their Bohemian love affairs in a manner which may yet cause the arrest of the editor. They all left notes saying that they preferred rest in peace rather than be hounded all their lives by persons who disapproved of their conduct, which was of such personal nature as to harm none in the community.

The tremendous influence which Yessenin wields after death is shown even more strikingly by the fact that 12 persons committed suicide in far-off Tagil, Siberia, several months ago. The rest of the 18 were scattered cases.

State Menagerie For Connecticut

(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Aug. 30.—The state of Connecticut, about to erect a large office building near the state house here, plans to maintain a ranch and menagerie within its confines, and officials are trying to determine whether the roof or one of the main floors would be the proper location for it.

There is nothing very extensive about either establishment, the ranch being limited to a small flock of sheep which are brought in from the state forests from time to time, and the menagerie consisting of rats, rabbits and guinea pigs.

The State Department of Health uses the animals in research work, and today houses them in a downtown office building here.

They were being returned here after Tom Mix, famous movie cowboy, joined the show and the circus cancelled its animal acts.

The narrow escape recalled memories to local inhabitants of the stampede of elephants here a few years ago when the mammoths were at large for nearly a week.

$141,320 Worth Of State Bonds Are Unredeemed

Like Many Uncashed Checks Were Not Presented For Payment

HARRISBURG, Aug. 30.—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is better off than it would be in the sum of $141,320.20, because bonds and notes for which the state is sponsor were never presented for redemption or payment. Gen. Edward Martin, State Treasurer, not only wonders why checks totaling $105,720.67 have never been presented for payment—he is puzzled as to the disappearance of the other securities. Old trunks and safes may contain some of them, but a great many, he believes have been lost or destroyed.

The list of matured notes and loans reclaimed begins with bonds issued April 2, 1821, and maturing June 1, 1841. They were issued for various purposes: for canals and railroads, navigation companies, loans, redemption of specie payment, relief loans, canal repairs, arming the state in 1861, and for the relief of Chambersburg sufferers following the burning of that town in 1864 by the Confederate Gen. McCausland.

Of the so-called "relief loans" floated by the Commonwealth in 1841, a total of $96,693 remains unpaid. Of the other loans comparatively small amounts are outstanding.

"While a search of old statutes may reveal some of the ancient securities," said Gen. Martin, "I doubt whether much of the outstanding $96,693 of the relief loan of 1841 will ever be uncovered. In that year the state was in bad condition financially. Its debtors were clamoring noisily, and finally the legislature provided for a loan totaling $3,100,000. Under the terms of the enabling act, banks which subscribed for portions of this loan were authorized to issue paper money—'ship-plasters'—in an equal amount. This paper money was in denominations of one, three and five dollars, and was a medium of exchange then just as United States currency is today. It is possible that almost the entire $96,693 outstanding may have been lost or destroyed, although now and then the State Treasury receives an inquiry concerning these ancient securities.

Early "Farm Aid"

"An examination of the act of 1841 shows that some of the state's optimists envisioned the day when Pennsylvania would rival China in the growing of silk, because that act provides that $6,000 be paid as premiums on silk and cocoons." The balance of the $3,100,000 was for schools, colleges, seminaries, pensions and gratuities, repairs to railroads and canals, orphan and other asylums, interest due on certain railroad bonds, navigation companies, the state library, militia expense, salaries for lock keepers, collectors, weighmasters and other canal employees.

"From time to time, during the last forty or fifty years, astute citizens have made efforts to trace the old securities, hoping that by purchasing them from persons ignorant of their value they might reap a rich financial reward. It is difficult to meet with these speculators, as well as by persons who own old promises-to-pay, is that all these ancient issues were widely counterfeited. Engraving processes were crude and the art of making non-counterfeitable paper was unknown. The state was flooded with bad money. Storekeepers and business houses refused to accept 'ship-plasters' until, in a book issued for their convenience, they learned the prevailing rate of exchange—whether it was worth 40 cent on the dollar, 100 cents on the dollar, or $2 a bale."

Oyster Season Will Open Soon

CHRISTFIELD, Md., Aug. 30.—Great activity is in progress in Christfield among all of the oyster packers in preparation for the coming oyster season, which begins the first week of September. Full time is being put in every day equipping the oyster houses with concrete floors and concrete benches, which are the latest requirements by both the state health department and the federal pure food laws. All of the packers have live-stream for sterilizing their equipment, such as baskets and other utensils, which they use in the handling of the delicious bivalve.

At a meeting of oyster packers and federal and state health officials held recently in the city hall here, representatives of more than 50 oyster-shucking establishments in Christfield and vicinity were present and discussed with the health officials various details in connection with the operation of the oyster shucking and packing industry in Christfield and on the eastern shore for the coming season.

President's Fishing Camp Deluxe Envoy Of Isaak Walton Disciples

By GEORGE E. DURNO, Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Almost every Friday, Mr. John Public picks up his newspaper and reads a short item to the effect President Hoover and a small party of friends have retired to the presidential fishing camp on the upper reaches of the Rapidan river for the week-end.

Immediately there springs to his mind a gleam of longing and of envy—particularly so if he be a disciple of Isaak Walton. He visualizes for himself a rugged mountain stream, a rough shack to which he may retire at the end of the day, the sizzling of his catch over a smoking fire, and all the other glorious pleasures of "just roughing it."

Nine Mile Road

Imagine, then, what would be his surprise should he be permitted to penetrate the nine-mile stretch of private road that connects "Camp Hoover" with the outside world and take a look around.

For when the Chief Executive goes fishing, he does it in de luxe fashion. Electric light and refrigeration, hot and cold running water, a telephone, real beds, plumbing, servant quarters—all these are but a few features of the Blue Ridge fishing camp. Right on the edge of the stream stands a cabin reserved for the President and Mrs. Hoover. Two commodious screened-in porches flank its front and side. Inside are a living room, two bed rooms and two bath rooms. The furniture is severely plain.

Guest Cabins

Along the banks of a little fork of the Rapidan which verges at the camp site stand six guest cabins of similar build save that they contain one bedroom and bath each. Adjuncts are four guest tents—commodious affairs built on stilts and installed with running water. To the rear of these "tents" are two completely equipped bathrooms.

Near the center of the camp stands the mess hall, large enough to accommodate about seventy persons, and the kitchen. Back of that are three cabins for the servants.

"Camp Hoover" is a testimonial to the efforts of the United States Marine Corps. For nearly two months a company of them toiled, clearing away underbrush, setting up the buildings and laying the plumbing and power and light lines.

All cooking is done on an electric stove. A chief petty officer who used to be aboard the Presidential Yacht, Mayflower presides over the kitchen, assisted by six Filipino compatriots of less rank.

2,500 Feet High

To reach this elaborate camp one must climb 2,500 feet up the mountain over a nine-mile road especially constructed by the Virginia State Highway Commission. Tortuously, it loops back and forth across the face of the mountain, each level visible from another and a sheer drop into the valley threatening from the outer shoulder should there be an unforeseen slide or accident. Following a heavy rain it is impassable to an automobile until the sun has dried it because of the danger of skidding into eternity, and horses several times have been utilized to transport the Presidential party part of the way.

When it comes to fishing, however, Mr. Hoover takes his stand with the experts of the rank and file. In wading boots he shuffles along the streambed with the best of them, and few can cast a fly or play a trout better than he.

These flights "around the world" near the top remind us that Eyrd did it first. He circled the North Pole.

TRIO CELEBRATE "21ST" BIRTHDAY

No, you're not "seeing things" when you look at this birthday party picture. There really are three of the Maxby triplets, of Los Angeles, and they look as alike as three peas. They recently celebrated what they call their twenty-first birthday, each of them being seven years old, a total of 21 years.

LIGHTNING HITS CORRY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Damage Will Run High; First Floor Flooded By Rain

CORRY, Aug. 30.—Work has been started on the repair of the roof of the junior high school, which was damaged in Monday night's electrical storm when the large stack on the sub-high building was struck by a bolt of lightning, tearing off a large piece of stone coping, which tore a hole in the roof of the school-house.

Rain poured through the opening and the junior found over an inch of water when he opened the building yesterday morning. A classroom on the second floor was also damaged, while fear is entertained that considerable replastering will be necessary in several rooms and in the corridors as a result of the soaking of the walls.

The stack of the schoolhouse was shattered for a distance of four or five feet. The bolt struck the top of the stack and loosened bricks for several feet.

The storm was one of the most severe of its kind to hit this city and vicinity in months. Two large barns on the Eugene Clayton farm in Concord township were destroyed when struck by lightning which was followed by fire. The structures and contents were destroyed, entailing quite a heavy loss with only a small amount of insurance.

Other damage was done about the city by the storm, which raised havoc for a time with the electric light service. The fire alarm system was also thrown out of commission.

No Estimate Of Economic Cost Of Zeppelin Trip

(International News Service) LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 30.—An economic estimate of the cost of the round-the-world trip is impossible inasmuch as it was purely an experimental voyage, with no exact book-keeping kept, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the airship, declared today.

The dirigibles of the future will make their profits from mail carrying and cargo rather than passengers, said Dr. Eckener. "On this trip, there were more passengers carried than would be the case if a regular trans-Atlantic dirigible service were in operation. In five years from now, perhaps I shall be able to answer the economic question better."

The cost of an airship in relation to an experimental flight cannot be estimated. The more airships built the lower the cost of operation. Henry Ford, we read, now has two million cars to his credit, if that's what you call it.

Motor Highway To Link Canada To West Coast

LOS ANGELES Aug. 30.—An automobile highway that would link Canada and the Pacific Coast with Cape Horn or Buenos Aires in South America was projected here today. Steps to crystallize the idea into a practical working plan have been undertaken by engineers of California. The project, hailed as the mightiest for commercial and peace development along the west coast, contemplates the use of four present unconnected routes. All four it was said to have a common appeal due to historic or scenic interest. Starting at Vancouver, B. C., according to the engineers, a broad highway would follow the scenic Columbia and Redwood highway routes, the Camino Real over which the Padres trod to open California to the world, and the ancient stone paved causeways of Aztec and Inca. "Two continents and a dozen nations would be tied together by the road. Already informal international discussions have been held regarding the proposal. Most of the governments approve it, the automobile club reported. From the United States government and state engineers a complete working plan was expected to be developed. This will be submitted to Latin-American leaders. The tentative route connects British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona; Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Bolivia, Peru, Chile and Argentina. As a single highway it would cover more degrees of latitude than any other route in the world, traversing the tropics, two temperate and one of the frigid zones. To be expected "some day" according to the automobile club, is a highway sign arrow pointing to the south and "to Cape Horn, 10,000 miles."

Big Munn, Former Champ Quits Mat

DENVER, Aug. 30.—Wayne Big Munn, ex-champion heavyweight wrestler, and former football star at the University of Nebraska, has given up his mat career, according to his wife, Mrs. Edna Munn, on a recent visit to Denver. Munn suffered a severe attack of Bright's disease that kept him in his bed for many weeks last winter, Mrs. Munn explained. He lost 40 pounds in weight. He is employed by an aviation company in Kansas City. Mrs. Munn's visit to Denver was made with the prospect that her husband would join her to live here.

New Inventions Changing Lives For Frenchmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A new epoch in French life and history is dawning—and the radio, automobile and airplane, all the contributions of modernism, are speeding its arrival. Dr. Fortunat Strowski, of the University of Paris, who is visiting professor at Columbia University's summer session, finds that the same post-war influences have accelerated life here to a greater degree, endangering family life in America more than in France. "Influences operating to force women out of the home and into commercial life have accomplished results in ten or twelve years under post-war conditions in France which normally could not have been accomplished in fifty or sixty," he declares. Despite the pressure brought about by economic conditions which force mothers and sisters into the professions and industries to swell the family purse, the French family spirit is preserving the home, he explains. "Americans feel the need for this tenderness too, and it accounts for the poignant regrets they sometimes express for their disappearing family life," he says, but points a difference between the home-lovers of France and those of this country. "The activity and enthusiasm of life in America is very intense as it is absorbing. The French man or woman takes more time to live, to enjoy others and perhaps to work out for himself his deepest capacities. Because of this milder tenor of existence, the American student in France may find himself happier than the French student who suddenly finds himself caught up in the accelerated swirl of life in the new world."

Denver Bootleggers Use Psalm As Sign

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 30.—District Attorney J. Arthur Phelps scratched his head vigorously for a possible meaning of the Lord's prayer and the twenty-third Psalm as they hung above bootleg manufacturing equipment in a home near here. James Voss, orderly at the United States hospital at Fort Lyons, and Yauncy Holl, a farmhand, were arrested on charges of violating the Volstead act. They would not explain, however, why they hung fancy scrolls of Biblical references above their "shop."

To Eliminate Cancer In Two Generations

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Elimination of cancer from the human race in two generations is possible according to Dr. Maude Slye, professor of pathology at the University of Chicago by keeping of complete laws of cancer occurrence and the observance of the Mendelian laws of heredity in all marriages. Miss Slye who has spent 19 years in laboratory work on the inheritance of the disease describes the occurrence of cancer in the several hundred thousand mice which she bred through 300 generations. Dr. Slye points out that the occurrence and behavior of cancer in mice is identical to human cancer and that since cancer is not artificially induced in laboratory mice but was spontaneous, there is no reason to believe that the results obtained by her through charting the family disease history as a guide to proper mating could be applied to human beings.

Election Scandal
Rocks Pittsburgh

Several Pages Missing From Voter's Lists In County
Treasurer's Office

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—The three cornered race for the Republican mayoralty nomination in Pittsburgh warmed up several degrees today as the result of the discovery that several pages of voters' lists are missing from the records in the county treasurer's office.

The missing lists contain names of voters in the third ward, and were torn from the record book which has been in the office of county treasurer John Francis for some time. Francis has had other records of voters impounded and put under lock and key since the disappearance of part of the lists from the third ward.

Meanwhile as search for the missing records goes on Mayor Charles Kline, Judge W. Martin and Councilman James Malone have all approved the incident of the missing voters' list to their individual campaigns, putting additional spirit into a contest that promises to be one of the hottest contests of recent years.

Town Dilemma!

All New Castle is confronted by a dilemma caused by the appearance of the "Zep." Here is the dilemma.

What is the best answer to the question, "Did you see the Zeppelin?" If you say "no" you are considered provincial, not quite up to the newest happenings—in fact, a hick.

And if you say "yes" it is then necessary to have a ready explanation as to why you were up at two o'clock in the morning. Some clever people avoid both issues by saying they were awakened by the roar of the motor.

Sees Zep's Trip As Blow To Five Year Army Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The flight of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin across the Pacific was cited here by Rep. W. Frank James of Michigan, chairman of the house military affairs committee, as a feat which had emphasized the "obsolescence" of the army's five-year construction program.

Representative James, here on a tour of inspection of Pacific coast defense, pointed out that the crossing of the Pacific by air was one of the developments which congress had been unable to foresee in framing the five-year program. He previously declared he would recommend the scrapping of the five-year program on the ground that it had been rendered obsolete by the recent developments in aviation.

Car License In Soak For 50-Cent Loan

TRENTON, Aug. 30.—Houses, cows, raccoon coats and even shirts have been used in New Jersey as collateral for loans. But Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill believes that today he discovered the first case of a man ever borrowing money on an automobile license.

Herbert T. Minkus of North Bergen needed 50 cents. He had no acceptable proof of financial stability detachable from his person except his driver's certificate. He turned the license over to David Singer of Jersey City, manager of the Owl Smoke shop there, and Singer advanced the half.

Singer today asked the commissioner to get back his silver or punish Minkus. Minkus is now licenseless.

Solicitor Suggests Cash Settlements

At the meeting of council this morning City Solicitor R. M. White suggested that he had a plan with which to meet the deadlock which has arisen between the city and the
P. & O. Company and the Harmony Line regarding the repaving of certain streets, especially where lines of the P. & O. have been abandoned.
His suggestion is to have a conference with officials of the P. & O.
Company, also of the Harmony Line, and try and arrange a cash settlement basis for the payment of paying bills against these respective corporations. He was of the opinion that this could be arranged.

State Improvement Held Over To Spring

City Solicitor R. M. White stated the proposed improvements, the amount available from the state for that purpose being $74,867.06. The Engineer F. P. Miller at a conference Thursday decided that in view of the city's lack of funds to start the re-paving of Croton avenue, Grant street and Butler avenue this fall, that it would be better to get things in shape for the letting of contracts, so that the repaving work to be done by the state on these streets would be started early next spring, specifica-tions being made, contracts awarded, etc., so that it could be started at that time and all the work undertaken and completed at the same time.

Solicitor White informed council that the state would pay approxi-mately two-thirds of all the costs of the proposed improvements, the amount available from the state for that purpose being $74,867.06. The Engineer F. P. Miller at a conference Thursday decided that in view of the city's lack of funds to start the re-paving of Croton avenue, Grant street and Butler avenue this fall, that it would be better to get things in shape for the letting of contracts, so that the repaving work to be done by the state on these streets would be started early next spring, specifica-tions being made, contracts awarded, etc., so that it could be started at that time and all the work undertaken and completed at the same time.

Ordinance Will Provide Rules For Golf Course

Measure To Govern New Muny Course Is Introduced In Council

An ordinance prepared by the city solicitor and introduced by Council-man Walter V. Tyler for the purpose of establishing the regulations for the municipal golf course, the num-ber of employees and their duties, compensation, etc., was placed in the committee of the whole for further consideration by council Friday morn-ing.

The ordinance provides that the municipal golf course shall be under the supervision of the Superintendent of Public Property and subject to the laws and ordinances relating to the Recreation Board. It provides that the municipal hospital on the property shall be operated and main-tained separate from the golf course. It creates positions of manager of the golf course, a director, a caddy master, two cashiers, and a grounds keeper. With the exception of the manager, whose compensation is placed at $75 a month, the other salaries are yet to be determined. The manager must report directly to the superintendent of the department and is responsible for the upkeep of the grounds and buildings and supervise the collection of fees and revenues and must keep records and accounts for the city controller. All money is to be turned over to the city treas-urer. He will have the right to take care of the players equipment, sell refreshments and golf supplies.

The director is to have charge of the collection of greens fees, direct the play on the course and keep and enforce order and have the power to make arrests for violations on the property. The caddy master will have charge of the caddies, instruct them in their duties and collect caddy fees. No tips may be accepted. The cashiers will receive monies from players; and the groundskeeper is to keep up the property and have the authority to employ help when approved. Employees may be discharg-ed by the superintendent of the de-partment with the approval of coun-cil and salaries may be changed by resolution of council.

The fees are $20 a year for mem-bers and permits the member, his wife or minor children to play. The fee for playing eighteen holes is to be 50 cents and $1 for all day.

The city treasurer is required un-der the ordinance to keep the money from the course in a separate fund and the ordinance directs that all revenues from it be used in the oper-ation and maintenance of the course.

Americans And British Reach Naval Accord

Both Countries Have Made Concessions; Not Quite Ready For Public Announcement

ABORTIVE GENEVA
PARLEY THWARTED

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Great Britain and the United States have substantially agreed upon the broad principles of a naval accord between the two countries. There will have to be, however, some more exchanges between Washington and London before the agreement in principle is ready for public announcement.

Both sides have made concessions from the positions taken at the abortive Geneva Conference in 1927, which broke up because of the utter inabil-ity of the experts to get together on the controversial cruiser question. "The statesmen," as exemplified by President Hoover and Premier Mac-Donald, have proven more amenable to compromise than were "the ad-mirals" at Geneva.

Reach Compromise
It is believed here that the com-promise reached embraces the fol-lowing:

1.—The United States is to pro-ceed with the construction of the 15 new 10,000-ton cruisers ordered by congress last year, to be completed in three years. These cruisers will mount 8-inch guns, and give the American navy superiority in the 8-inch gun type.

2.—Great Britain is to retain supe-riority in gross cruiser tonnage until time and a replacement program, now being worked out, tend to bring the two navies to be approximately parity, which probably will be between 1936 and 1940.

3.—Both countries are willing to abo-lish submarines provided the other powers, Japan, France and Italy, are also willing.

4.—The time for replacement of capital ships (dreadnaughts) under the Washington arms conference treaties is to be extended, thus sav-ing all concerned considerable money.

U. S. Sacrifices
The completion of the 15-cruiser program will give the United States approximately 300,000 tons of first class cruisers, embracing 23 ships of the 10,000-ton class, mounting 8-inch guns, and 10 ships of the 7,500-ton class, with 6-inch batteries.

Great Britain now has approxi-mately 400,000 gross tons of cruisers, of which 15 are of the 15,000-ton class, mounting 8-inch batteries. The rest run the scale downward to as low as 3,700 tons and many are now approaching the age of retirement. The cruiser units of the British, however, number 64, as against the 33 the United States will have upon completion of the present three-year building program.

It thus becomes obvious that the United States has made very material concessions to the British, at least as compared with what Ambassador S. Gibson, upon the advice of his experts at Geneva, was willing to offer.

ELLWOOD YOUTH ENDS LIFE WITH REVOLVER

Nathaniel Sarver Commits Suicide In Auto In Ewing Park Tragedy Occurs About 3 O'Clock This Morning
—Parents Heart Broken

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 30.—While sitting in an automobile in Ewing park this morning about 3 o'clock, Nathaniel Sarver, aged 24, of Ellwood City, placed a .32 caliber revolver to his head and fired a bullet through his brain. He shot entering about half an inch above the right ear.

Melvin Houk, aged 20, of Wampum, a companion of Sarver, who had fallen into a doze by his side, was awakened by the shot. He was horrified to find the blood dripping from Sarver's head and a revolver clutched in his hand.

Jumping out of the car Houk ran to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sarver, parents of Nathaniel Sarver, who lived a short distance away. He notified them of what had taken place. Mr. Sarver called the Ellwood police department and Policeman Booher responded. A call was also sent for an ambulance.

Arriving at Ewing park they found that Sarver was dead. His stiffened fingers had closed about the revolver, which was taken from his hand by Policeman Booher. Coroner J. P. Caldwell was notified.

The tragic death of Sarver came as a climax to an automobile trip, according to the story told Coroner Caldwell by Houk. Sarver and Houk have been close friends. Houk is a son of J. B. Houk of Wampum.

The young man had been working at the tube plant in Ellwood City. Recently Sarver had lost his job. It is said that he had been unable to get along well at the plant and that he had been brooding over the matter.

He and Houk decided that they would go to California in a car owned by Sarver. On last Tuesday they started. Sarver, it is said, did not tell his parents where he was going, but packing up his clothes, had left a note under a pillow in his mother's room. In this note he said that he was going away and would probably be gone for some time.

The young man started in the car, which was a coupe, about 11 o'clock last Tuesday night. They had but little ready cash and decided that they would work on their way to California. They last night for Detroit. At Detroit their car began to act badly and they concluded that it would never take them to California and decided to return home. They left Detroit early yesterday morning and arrived in Beaver Falls last night, coming from there to Ellwood City. When they arrived in Ellwood about 2 o'clock this morning, Sarver said he did not want to go home and cause his mother any more worry. He suggested that they drive to Ewing park.

sleep in the car all night, and try to get work in the morning. Houk, who was driving from Beaver Falls, consented.

It was about 3 a. m. when the car came to a halt in Ewing park. They talked a little while about the prospects of the morning. Among other things Sarver said to Houk that he did not care what happened. They then stretched out in the car seat as best they could to sleep. Houk says that he was just falling into a doze when he was awakened by the shot. He knew Sarver had the revolver, but had not seen it while they were sitting in the park until after he was awakened. He said that on the way from Detroit, Sarver seemed to be discouraged, and had suggested that they both shoot themselves. Houk laughed at the idea and tried to cheer Sarver up. According to Houk, Sarver had purchased the revolver shortly before they had left for Detroit. He said that they would need a gun on their long trip, to protect themselves.

Sarver's parents are heart broken over the tragedy. They say that their son had shown signs of discouragement late, but they had no idea that he would take his life.

Sarver is survived by his parents, one brother John and three sisters Grace, Gladys and Elsie. Funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Shenango Valley Hospital Serves Community For Past 35 Years; Day Of Dedication Is Recalled

Within the next two weeks the old Shenango Valley hospital will be evacuated by the patients and staff, the equipment that can be used will be moved out, and the institution closed to the public.

It is interesting to review the history of the old institution and to look back to the date of its inception and dedication, which was an event of April 12, 1894.

Plans for the hospital were made at a meeting of the board on January 29, 1892, when the general contract for the building was let to William Barnett for $14,697. The heating contract was let to Smead, Wells and Co. for $1,347, making a total expenditure of $16,044. Plans for the institution were drawn by C. G. Thayer.

Officers of the board were William Patterson, president; A. W. Thompson, secretary; and E. I. Phillips, treasurer. The board in its entirety was composed of William Patterson, Hon. Thomas W. Phillips, L. S. Hoyt, George B. Berger, J. N. Falls, A. W. Thompson, J. P. H. Cunningham, W. E. Reis and E. I. Phillips.

The hospital had been practically completed and was awaiting dedication when, through some mysterious manner, it took fire and was destroyed. This occurred on April 8, 1893. Insurance in the sum of $12,500 was carried on the building. According to comment at the time, the building is believed to have been set afire, although no definite proof to this fact was ever established.

In an incredibly short time a new building arose on the site of the old and the building was dedicated at a great public ceremony on April 12, 1894.

The guest of honor and principal speaker on this occasion was Governor Robert E. Pattison, who made a special trip here from Harrisburg for the occasion.

He was met at Gallery Junction by a delegation of prominent New Castle citizens and escorted to this city for the ceremonies. Those in the party were A. W. Thompson, Wells B. Cendelin, L. S. Hoyt, Captain Cooper, Postmaster Gibson, J. Fleckenstein, J. V. Travers, J. N. Martin, J. C. Wallace, Capt. Clark, Mayor Richardson, Prof. Shearer, Charles Matthews, C. H. Akens, E. I. Phillips, Sheriff Douthett, T. H. Waddington, J. Donnellan, J. N. Falls, C. C. Pryor, David Jonas and Robert M. Winter.

The party arrived in the city early in the morning and Governor Patterson spent the day here, the dedication ceremonies taking place on the Diamond at 2:45 in the afternoon, following a parade throughout the downtown section.

Capt. Gilliland was marshal of the parade, which was headed by Attorneys James A. Gardner, A. W. Gardner, E. I. Phillips and District Attorney Plummer Emery. Citizens and school children also participated, and there were several bands.

A. W. Thompson acted as chairman and introduced the speakers, who in addition to Governor Patterson were Superintendent of Schools Shearer and Mayor Richardson.

It is interesting to read the account of the hospital dedication and description of the building in the issue of the old New Castle News of that date. In connection with the operating room the story states that "one end of the room contains a series of raised seats, to be occupied by spectators during surgical operations."

The hospital staff at that time consisted of Drs. J. K. Pollock and C. A. Reed, surgeons, and Drs. J. A. Smith and J. C. McKee, physicians. There were two nurses, Miss McSweeney, a graduate of the West Penn hospital of Pittsburgh, and Miss Book of Edenburg. The matron was Miss Nelson, who was described as a woman of wide experience who had been engaged in hospital work for a period of four years.

Other attaches at the hospital were Miss Minnie Boyd, chambermaid; Misses Minnie and Maggie Black, laundresses; Miss Emma Reard, cook, and John Eckles, janitor.

The patients in the hospital at the time of the dedication were described as three females and two males.

The first state appropriation for the hospital was $17,000. After the first structure was burned down, another appropriation was granted for $10,000, but due to an error in transcribing the amount, cut this to $9,000.

When the building was first opened it was one of the finest structures of its kind in this section of the country, but its days of usefulness as a hospital have long since passed. It is neither modern nor fireproof and is badly arranged for hospital purposes.

However, it has seen many years of service and has served the citizens of New Castle well. Its passing marks a step in the progress of the city, which is now served by two modern institutions in the new Jameson Memorial hospital and the New Castle hospital, which will adequately serve the city for many more years to come.

Wife's Sister Is Other Woman In Most Divorces

By RICHARD C. WILSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 30.—The "other woman" in most divorce cases is none other than the wife's sister, according to Sophia Ann Riley, Kansas City's youngest divorce doctor.

Miss Riley has been married, just the same, but she speaks from experience. It is her job to interrogate women who are sued for divorce by men.

Blame For Rift.
"Most men blame the wife's sister for the rift," she said. "Often it is a divorced sister who never seems satisfied until she induces her sister to follow her example."

In other cases, the pretty young proctor has found that an intimate divorced friend sows the seeds of marital discontent by parading her new found "freedom" and subtly influencing the wife to try for similar "freedom."

In the matter of divorce, men are as chivalrous as ever, opines Miss Riley. They dislike to sue their wives.

"Maybe it's just because they want to be the martyr in the case," she added.

"I have found exceptionally few cases where marital happiness results when both husband and wife work," she continued.

Don't Work Out.
"It just won't work out. The wife comes home tired and doesn't do a good job of cooking dinner. Then a spat usually follows. The wife doesn't want to give up her job, so she usually gives up her husband."

Just at present, Miss Riley is working one of the most perplexing divorce cases she has yet encountered. It involves the case of a man who, believing himself divorced by his first wife, remarried and has four children by the second marriage. Now he is trying to obtain a divorce from his first wife and he has remarked that he does not intend to marry the mother of his four children when he gets his divorce. Apparently he has decided twice is enough.

The Story Of The World War
CI—Diplomatic Relations With Germany Severed

EARLY IN 1917, GERMANY, CHAGRINED AT THE REJECTION OF HER RECENT PEACE PROPOSALS AND ALARMED BY THE INCREASING SHORTAGE OF FOOD AND SUPPLIES DUE TO THE RIGID BRITISH BLOCKADE, RESOLVED TO TAKE A DESPERATE STEP. JANUARY 31, 1917, SHE ANNOUNCED TO THE WORLD THAT ON THE FOLLOWING DAY SHE WOULD BEGIN UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE WARFARE.

HE ESTABLISHED VAST BLOCKADE ZONES IN THE ATLANTIC AND MEDITERRANEAN IN WHICH ALL MERCHANTMEN, NEUTRALS INCLUDED, WERE TO BE SUNK AT SIGHT. NARROW LANES WERE LEFT TO PROVIDE ACCESS TO NEUTRAL SPANISH AND GREEK PORTS. ONE AMERICAN SHIP A WEEK WAS TO BE PERMITTED TO VISIT ENGLAND, IF SHE CARRIED NO CONTRABAND AND HAD RED AND WHITE STRIPES PAINTED ON HER SIDES.

TO AMERICANS THIS INSULTING THREAT WAS THE "LAST STRAW". WITH OUR TRADE WITH EUROPE IN DANGER OF DESTRUCTION, PRESIDENT WILSON ACTED PROMPTLY. FEBRUARY 3, 1917, AMERICAN AMBASSADOR GERRARD WAS RECALLED FROM BERLIN, AND COUNT BERNSTORFF, GERMAN AMBASSADOR AT WASHINGTON, WAS GIVEN HIS PASSPORTS.

IN AN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS THE SAME DAY PRESIDENT WILSON DECLARED THAT IF THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT PROCEEDED WITH ITS PROGRAMME OF RUTHLESS U-SOAT WARFARE HE WOULD ASK CONGRESS FOR NECESSARY ACTION. THE NATION HUMMED WITH EXCITEMENT. CONGRESS AND THE PUBLIC APPROVED THE PRESIDENT'S COURSE, WHILE ALL OVER THE COUNTRY GERMAN-AMERICANS HASTENED TO PLEDGE THEIR LOYALTY TO THE LAND OF THEIR ADOPTION.

ITALIANS-AGATHONS READY FOR GAME

Massillon To Bring Strong Team Saturday

Italians Hope To Defeat Strong Semi-Pro Team Here Saturday Afternoon

GAME IS CARDED FOR 3:30 O'CLOCK

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Tomorrow afternoon at Centennial Field, the Italian A. A. team of leaders of the Lawrence County League, will battle the Massillon Agathons, in a game that is a playoff to the recently deadlocked 5-5 management. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock. It is "Micky" Huff Day at the local ball orchard.

Manager George Textor is not at all satisfied with the first game played between these two teams. He thinks that the Agathons should be the better, and therefore should grab the victory. Manager Alec Black feels the same way about it, and will send Shiek to the knoll in an attempt to throttle the efforts of the Ohioans.

It is likely that Sharkey will occupy the mound for the Agathons. Manager Textor is anxious to win, and will present his strongest lineup. Many of the Agathon players formerly were representing New Castle in the O. & P. League.

"Micky" Huff Day
The day has been designated as "Micky" Huff Day for the benefit of the popular Seventh Ward product who is making good in semi-pro circles, and a youth who is destined to climb higher. Huff is a second baseman, and a good one. The Cleveland Indians have scouted Huff and have stamped him as a likely looking prospect. He will probably go south with the Indians next spring for a tryout.

New Castle fans can show the proper spirit tomorrow afternoon, by going to the game, and showing Huff that he has a host of friends here, who wish him success in the baseball world. He has been playing a great brand of ball for the Agathons this year.

"Jewie" Coen is another New Castle boy with the Agathons, and if Sharkey falters, it is likely that Manager Textor will send in the youth with the glasses.

Manager Black has the Italians all pepped up for this game, and they hope to upset the Massillon crew. If Shiek should get in "hot water," Black will send Shiek into the breach. It was the pitching of Shiek last time that gave the Italians an even break with the Agathons, after Shields had been shelled off the knoll.

With fine weather prevailing, the game tomorrow afternoon should bring out the fans. It will be the last chance of the year to see the Agathons, rated as one of the strongest semi-pro teams in the state of Ohio.

MUSHBALL LEAD HELD BY LEHIGH

Manager Flynn Has Lehigh Team On Their Toes; Phalanx In Second Place

By virtue of their startling upset of the strong Phalanx team last night in the Lehigh field, the Lehigh Cement team rules supreme over the Mushball league with 6 victories and no defeats.

The Phalanx team is in second place with five and one. The Tin Mill will try to tie the Phalanx to night when they meet the Firemen. The Post Office team hopes to gain a 500 percent mark by dropping The News tonight, the Mail Carriers have won two and lost three. The Haney Bankers, Firemen and News are bringing up the second division.

Pirates Again Defeat Cubs

Three Straight For Pirates Over Cubs—Jess Petty In Fine Form—Score 5-4

HAROLD CARLSON LOSING PITCHER

FORBES FIELD, Aug. 30.—The Pirates made it third straight over the Chicago Cubs by taking the game played yesterday afternoon 5 to 4. The game was a pitching duel between Carlson and Petty, with the Bucco heavier the better off he two. The Pirates found Carlson easy to solve. Lloyd Waner and Pie Traynor had triples. The Cubs could not hit Petty effectively. The lead of the Cubs has been sliced to 11½ games. The summary:

Better Sport Shows Keener Rivalry Loom For Next Year's Campaigns

By WILLIAM RITT, Central Press Sport Editor.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—With the summer campaign in sports entering its final month there is promise of a great 1930 season in the air.

The current season was disappointing in the sense that few new champions or strong challengers made their appearance in important sports. Most of the old kings are still doing business at the same stand.

Baseball alone saw a great change. Both American and National league champions fell by the wayside and the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs have risen to where victory is virtually in their grasp. Both races have become runaways and extremely uninteresting.

Boxing proved a tremendous disappointment. Hopes of staging a heavyweight title bout did not materialize and Gene Tunney is still the nominal heavy king.

Boxing Business Quiet.
Efforts to dethrone light Heavyweight Champion Tommy Loughran, Middleweight Champion Mickey Walker and Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell failed. Welterweight Champion Joe Dundee passed from the picture—the only official note of an otherwise drab fight season for Joe was a sorry looking king.

In golf nothing new happened in an individual championship way. Bobby Jones succeeded Johnny Farrell as National Open champion, but that was predicted by everyone. Walter Hagen succeeded himself as British Open champion.

In tennis Helen Wills again won the American, British and French titles, crowns she had captured before, with almost no effort. The French were once more unbeatable in the fight for the Davis cup. America regained the Wimbledon cup, an occurrence that is biennial.

1930 Promising.
Switching the spotlight to 1930 better baseball campaigns are foreseen. Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees plans to rebuild his outfit and give the A's a better race. The Yanks already have picked up some new material. The Cleveland Indians are coming fast and may be a menace to Connie Mack next year. The National race could be tighter.

The plan to find a successor to Tunney should come to a head next year—probably with a little bout between Tommy Loughran and Max Schmeling. Paste that one in your hat. It's a prediction we made months ago and it still goes. Schmeling by next season should be a lot more respectable about contracts and such. He's really got the stuff when he fights.

As long as Hagen and Jones play at their present form golf should look just about the same. But keep your eye on Billie Hicks, that kid may upset the applecart in feminis golf circles next year.

Watch Out for Betty.
Betty Nuthall is coming back next year to try to dethrone Helen Wills an older and stronger Betty. A Betty who will know a lot more about tennis than she did when she got off the boat at New York this season. Helen Jacobs, too, is improving at a rapid rate.

America may see another international championship polo match next year, the last important clash having been the defeat of the fine Argentine team last season.

Sir Thomas Lipton, the gallant British sportsman, is getting ready for one more try at wresting the America's cup from Yankee hands. His efforts will be made late next summer.

Yessir, it looks like there is going to be a lot of firing and activity along the sport page front in 1930.

MARATHON SWIM IS SET TODAY

Waters Of Lake Ontario Are Above Required Temperature

TORONTO, Ontario, Aug. 30.—Barring a sudden drop in the temperature of Lake Ontario, the much postponed Wrigley 15-mile marathon swim will be staged today.

Officials declared early today that the waters of the lake were above the required 58 degrees and that all was set for the event.

Ernst Vierkotter, of Germany, winner of the marathon two years ago, remained the outstanding favorite to cap the race, though George Young, winner of the first Wrigley swim at Catalina Island in 1926, does not lack in supporters.

Haney Furniture Team Beats News

News Office Mushball Team Is Shutout By Haney Team In Fast Game 6-0

Inability to hit when hits meant runs, cost The News Office the game, played in the New Castle Mushball League, at Colonial Field on Thursday night. The Haney Furniture team took a 6 to 0 verdict.

The News boys outthrew the Haney team, but could not get a run over the plate. Fast fielding by the Furniture men kept The News players from the plate. L. Friedman in right field was a tower of strength to the Haney team grabbing several hard liners.

The Haney team got to Walther in the first inning for a pair of runs, and again in the fourth for four more markers, but after that the game was nip and tuck.

Batting honors went to Burkholder, Gresham, Lewellen, and Carr.

Auto Racers Are Tuning Up Cars

Race At Altoona Labor Day Attracts Quite Some Attention From Racing Stars

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 30.—Drivers who will participate in the 200-mile Labor Day at the Altoona speedway today were putting the finishing touches on their cars in anticipation of the hot race of the year.

Rivalry among the entrants is reported as keen as the little racing cars shoot around the track in practice runs. Lou Meyer who holds the A. A. championship is the favorite because of his past record. Other pilots entered in the race include Cliff Berger, Lou Moore, Deacon Litz, Chester and Speed Gardner and Billy Arnold.

The Central Presbyterians and First M. E. battled to a 0-0 deadlock in the second game of the championship series, played at Centennial Field on Thursday night. The game was halted by darkness. The third game will be played next week, the exact date has not been chosen.

The game was a pitchers battle through and through. Honkonen and Funkhouser opposed each other. The Methodist mound ace allowed three hits, while the Presbyterians heaver allowed but six. Both teams gave the twirlers fine support. A fast double play by the Presbyterians kept the Methodists from scoring.

A large crowd witnessed the game. Due to several players on both teams going out of town Saturday, the third game could not be played. The Presbyterians already have one-leg up on the championship by virtue of a win in the first engagement.

MAKE FAST TIME IN GREAT RACES AT FAIR TRACK

Race events Thursday afternoon at the track of the New Castle Fair association were the best that have been witnessed at the track in many years. With a track that was dry and fast, the horses stepped out with their best efforts and the result was a real exciting finish in every instance with every horse and driver apparently doing their utmost to win the event.

Again featuring the race events was the excellent work of Chester Standish of Columbus, O., the starting and presiding judge, who had the cooperation of the drivers in starting, which resulted in no unnecessary scoring and some of the best starts seen on the local race course.

In the four races held Thursday two New Castle entries turned the trick and won them, Seth the Great, entry of Walter Johnson in the 2:20 trot, and Worthy Lord, entry of J. W. Hartwell in the 2:10 pace, romping in first with comparative ease in their respective classes.

Cleveland Horse Wins.

While the 2:24 pace was won by Directmar, entry of George Bennett of Cleveland, O. This fast going horse was compelled to divide honors with Bonnard, the entry of George Hunter of Youngstown, when in the second heat Directmar got off to a bad start and Bonnard took the lead and finished first. Directmar being second. In the last heat Directmar was in the rear until about the three-quarter mile post, when without the least trouble the black gelding forged into first position and continued it until the finish of the race. Tat McKinney, the entry of J. Ed McWilliams of this city, finished in the money in the last two heats.

New Castle Horse Leads.

Very fast time was made in the 2:20 trot, which Seth the Great, the entry of Walter Johnson, took in three straight heats and with comparative ease with Dick Johnson driving him. Lucille Guy, driven by Walter Johnson offered real opposition in the second and third heats but could not quite equal the effort of the winning horse.

Wonderful Performer.

Worthy Lord, bay gelding of J. W. Hartwell of this city, with Walter Johnson holding the reins, showed wonderful speed and ability in taking the 2:10 pace in three straight heats. The only real opposition offered was by Myrtle Baxter, entry of George Bennett of Cleveland, which mare could not quite make it. Worthy Lord was clocked and found to have raced that half mile in the remarkable time of one minute and three seconds. It was announced from the stand following the race that all previous track records for three consecutive heats in a race had been shattered by Worthy Lord in the winning of the event. Every one of the heats was finished in the remarkable time of 2:07 or a fraction of a second more.

Everybody Wins.

Three horses in the 2:14 trot won heats and it was necessary for the fourth heat to be raced in order to determine the winner. The Exquisite, entry of George Harrod of Buffalo, N. Y., took the first heat. Then David Frisco, entry of George Hunter of Youngstown stepped in and took the second. Ben Volo, Walter Johnson up, proved more or less of a surprise by coming in on the third heat and coping first place. The finish of the third heat was a pretty affair with four horses coming down the stretch together and all fighting for the first place honors. David Frisco finished first in the fourth and deciding heat.

Considerable interest was shown by the race crowd in Brown Volo, owned by Crowl & Whelan, and having a racing record of 2:15 as a two-year-old, when she was shown before the grandstand. The horse is extremely fine in appearance and has all the indications of being able to race at a much faster speed.

KID CHOCOLATE BATTLE BRINGS BIG ARGUMENT

Even Judges Disagreed On Outcome; Referee For Chocolate

By SID MERCER

International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Al Singer and Kid Chocolate started something more than a two-man fight when they posed and paraded each other for twelve rounds last night at the Polo Grounds.

They unceremoniously argued that will increase in momentum and bitterness until the skinny black boy from Havana and the solemn faced little Hebrew from the Bronx meet again over a longer route to settle a question of supremacy that was not answered by any means last night although the official decision went to Chocolate and preserved his winning streak.

Even the officials disagreed. Louis Magnolia, the referee, and Charles F. Mathison, one of the judges, cast their ballots for the Cuban; George Kelly, the other judge, thought Singer won.

This difference of opinion spread through the crowd of 45,000 from the press rows at the ringside right back to the distant bleachers with partisan challenges ringing all over the premises.

No verdict that could have been rendered would have pleased that crowd. The decision cries aloud for a return match which probably will be staged at the Garden next fall over the fifteen-round route.

That will be no hardship on Singer and Chocolate who entered the realm of big business last night by drawing down something like $40,000 each.

They fought with due respect to each other's prowess and mixed it only in spots. Singer's vaunted right hand never did crack down on Chocolate's chin with full force until after the white had had harmlessly spent the TNT in that glove. There were no knockdowns and neither was in distress at any time.

British Troopers Fire On Arabians To Recover Stolen Loot

(International News Service)

LOHON, Aug. 30.—Twelve Arabians are reported to have been killed at Surbahir and Litta, Palestine, by British troops, who gave battle to recover loot seized by the Moslems, according to advices published by evening newspapers this afternoon.

More than a dozen young American students, members of a cycling group traveling through Syria, may be imperiled on the Palestine-Syrian frontier.

Fighting is reported to have broken out at Acre, 95 miles northwest of Jerusalem. British troops have been rushed there to reinforce the guards already on the scene.

A GENUINE SALE . . . NOT SECONDS OR SECONDARY LINES

A remnant event with a real reason. This summer we have changed over hundreds of new cars to Generals, re-selling the new equipment tires in sets, pairs and singles. Now we are cutting our regular low prices still lower to clear out all lines but The General. Sale starts with all popular sizes and leading brands represented, but not all sizes or full sets in every brand.

Why be caught by the "bait" of off-brand, orphan tires and the equipment tire manufacturers' second, third and fourth grade lines "featured" at regular prices. Why buy tires obviously built cheap to sell cheap when we can sell you FIRST GRADE TIRES for so little and give you a definite Double Guarantee of the most for your money in Miles, Months and Years

Lehigh Mushball Team Defeats Phalanx And Takes First Place In League 11-5

THREE HOMERS FEATURE GAME

The Lehigh Cement team gained undisputed possession of first place in the New Castle mushball league on Thursday night by swamping the Phalanx team 11 to 5. The game was played on the Lehigh field.

The Cementers got to Lindy Bruce in the first inning for six runs, and came back in the next three innings to score five more. The Phalanx team was held scoreless until the fifth when they showed over a pair of runs, and again in the seventh the Phalanx boys secured three markers on bunched hits.

Rich on the hill for the Lehigh team pitched good ball, giving but eight hits and fanning three men. Bruce allowed nine blows. The Phalanx team failed to support Bruce, having five fumbles.

Cutler, Rich and Kroen had home runs. Bruce had a triple. Badler, Cutler and Pollock had doubles. Rich was the best hitter with four safe blows, while Sadler had three wallops. It was the sixth straight win for the Flynn managed team.

Coming Batting Champs?

Only paralyzing reversals of form can prevent Babe Herman and Jimmy Foxx from topping, respectively, the National and American leagues in batting this season. At the home stretch approaches, both are in commanding positions and each should continue as such barring accident or illness.

Herman of the Brooklyn team has been noted as a slugger ever since joining the big time. This Babe is a miniature Ruth of no small proportions. Homers are his specialty. This year, Herman has been hitting with remarkable consistency. He is so good at the bat in fact, that it compensates for his mediocre fielding. You know, Herman could not make the grade at first base so they shifted him to the outfield where—well, he's making a game effort to improve.

Foxx of the Athletics is close to being already the season's most dazzling

all-round star. Jimmy plugged what was the big gap in Connie Mack's machine at first base. The "A's" might have won last year with a star at that sack. This season, Foxx, who can play any position, was assigned to Base No. 1. Both in the field and at bat, he came up to fondest expectations. Jimmy hits to all fields and connects smartly with all types of pitching. He's very young and fast, with the strength that stands up splendidly in long and hard campaigns.

Herman is the hero of one of baseball's most historic incidents. He was the first player called on to pinch-hit for Ty Cobb when that "greatest of them all" began to slip.

Foxx's biggest moment thus far came last year when he knocked a homer over the left-field stands in Shibe Park—"the longest hit I ever saw," according to such an ideal judge as Connie Mack himself!

Name Six Boys Winners In Fair Stock Judging

Six Lawrence county lads will go with H. R. McCullough, county farm agent, in charge. Winners are as follows: Dairy Cat, Frank Hoseney of North Beaver township, and Theodore Carr of Washington township. Swine Judging Contest, Gaylord Stoughton, Scott township, and Ed-ward Duff and William Brittain of Big Beaver township.

Find Roman Relic Under Mud Of Lake

used their hands locating a metal object of notable proportions. Great excitement prevailed. In a short time and with great care, the excavators brought to light a bronze head of a wolf with mooring rings attached similar in every respect to those found in 1895 and now to be seen in the Roman National Museum. Not without difficulty was the bronze head extricated from its mud prison and after being washed it was seen to be like others found 30 years ago—in an excellent state of preservation with the movable ring hanging from its throat. This ring, however does not show any sign of usage and must have been purely ornamental. The artistic beam-end was found on the left side of the ship and others similar were torn off from the right side. Just after the discovery of the wolf's head on the left side on the right were discovered some magnificent copper tiles one of which had been found when the ship was still under water.

Just a few more hours and the fair will be over and the roaming in Hickory township will be curtailed. Every afternoon has been spent at the fair grounds, and to date the total plunder to show for about eight dollars and seventy-five cents consists of two canes, (one of which Charley Andrews borrowed for keeps), one blanket colored something like Joseph's coat, and which sheds with all the gleeful abandon of a collie dog, and one sore arm from throwing baseballs at stuffed heads.

"Sandy" Baxter Gives Rules For Golfers

(International News Service) OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 30.—Many successful business leaders as well as the ordinary laymen, fall to master the game of golf because they do not obey one of the most common rules of business. At least, this is the opinion of Alexander "Sandy" Baxter, who has been a professional golf teacher at golf clubs in all parts of the country since he left Scotland in 1900. Baxter at present is "pro" at Twin Hills golf club here.

"What is the most common mistake of the average golfer?" Baxter, who has taught thousands the game, was asked.

"Failure to keep their eye on the ball," Sandy, who doesn't find it necessary to retain a Scotch accent to be a good teacher, promptly responded.

"It's funny to me," he added, "I've had big business men come to me for lessons and say they've been too busy in past years watching their business interests to take up golf. In other words, they've been keeping their eye on the ball."

Punny about that blanket. Put an odd dime on number 12, and the lit- tle indicator spun around, hopped back and forth and then came to rest on the number that is sometimes thought to be unlucky. Now Lou Mc- Aneny insists that he was going to play the same hunch.

Not satisfied with giving the mid-way customers a demonstration of sharpshooting with baseballs, County Commissioner T. J. McCullough repeated his performance on Thursday afternoon. The boy is clever but what he did with that candy he won is a question.

His colleague P. O. Elder ritized the fans yesterday. P. O. had a box at the While we're on the subject of races, wouldn't it be well to mention that pacer of J. W. Hartwell's, "Worthy Lord." What a horse. Long and lanky and graceful, he showed his heels to the field in three straight heats and after the race I came to the conclusion that Dell Post was right. Early yesterday morning Dell informed me that "Worthy Lord" would lead the field all the way through and he did that thing.

Horses like that seems to be nearly human. Waiting for the other horses to start, he seemed doleful and indif- ferent. But once they started up to- wards the judges' stand and got the "Go" of Starter Sands, "Worthy Lord" was transformed into a pac- ing machine that never stopped until the finish line was crossed. As Al Turner said up in the stand "he never quits tramping" and to this splendid animal's outstanding performance must be added intelligent driving by Walter Johnson. And if you think Bill Hartwell isn't proud of "Worthy Lord," ask him.

The shortest couple didn't really get the prize Thursday if you take the plant of one citizen. He and his family out at the fair, his wife, an eight-year old boy, and a six year old girl and what the family did to Dad's bankroll was a plenty.

"Short" he snorted as he headed for home. "I'm the shortest guy in eight states this evening. They took me on the merry-go-round, played Bingo, played the blanket wheels, ate peanuts and drank pop, the wife had her fortune told and bought some flowers, the boy had to throw some baseballs and the girl had to have one of those dolls. Good thing I have plenty of gas to get home, for I'm the shortest individual you ever saw."

An impromptu act staged in front of the grandstand late in the evening was both pathetic and amusing. A blind fiddler was playing, sawing out his tunes for the crowd and collect- ing a few coins for his work. A little five year old girl, Maida Marie Shu- ller heard the catchy music and im- itated upon dancing and she did to the applause of the crowd. Only five but she put on a little dance there that brought cheers. But the fiddler couldn't see her.

And now that the fair is about over, I wonder what these ladies of the grunges are going to do with those cookies? In case they have no place to put them, The New Castle News is on North Mercer street. They certainly were powerful tempting looking on the shelves and I was in favor of a prize for all of them.

Heard some interesting stories about the flight of the Graf Zeppelin flying over the county. Charley Crowl was on his way home from Grove City and was nearly to the city line on the Harlansburg road when he heard the roar overhead. As he look- ed up he saw a sight that was seen by comparatively few of the county.

Just one little look wasn't enough for him. He turned his car around and trailed the Zep back to Slippery Rock. He used his search light as he went and threw the light up to the silver ship as she sailed majes- tically out the Harlansburg road.

Getting back to the fair, if you haven't been out, do it this after- noon. You'll have a lot of fun and you really should see what they have.
